Dr. H. C. Burleigh
Bath, Ontario

Dear Doctor:

For the past three months I have been answering Dulmage questions from a Miss Elsie Dulmage of Winnipeg, a connection of the Bay of Quinte branch.

Yesterday I was delighted to receive 27-page compilation covering not only her immediate family but going back to 1709 and including some of the collaterals, like myself.

At first I started to read proof, but I soon realized that the misspellings, typists' errors and galloping garbling far outnumbered the solid and verifiable facts.

I am consistently (five places) Eckles--which is a completely different family, and the distinguished J. A. B. Dulmage, Q.C., of Smiths Falls, comes out as "Garrett" Dulmage, which was the name of his greatgrandfather.

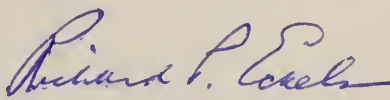

Page 20 is a garbled version of a memo, May 30, 1966, I sent to Mr. John E. Dulmage, also of Winnipeg, who is now 91. After my genealogical trip of August-September 1966, I had more precise data for all of us, sent some to Mr. Dulmage, but that never got into Miss Elsie's sticky hands.

Page 21 purports to be the lineage of Mr. John E. Dulmage of Winnipeg--three generations of which are completely erroneous. The man for whom it would be a correct lineage, barring garblings, was John P. Dylmage (1856-1907) who died in Detroit, unmarried.

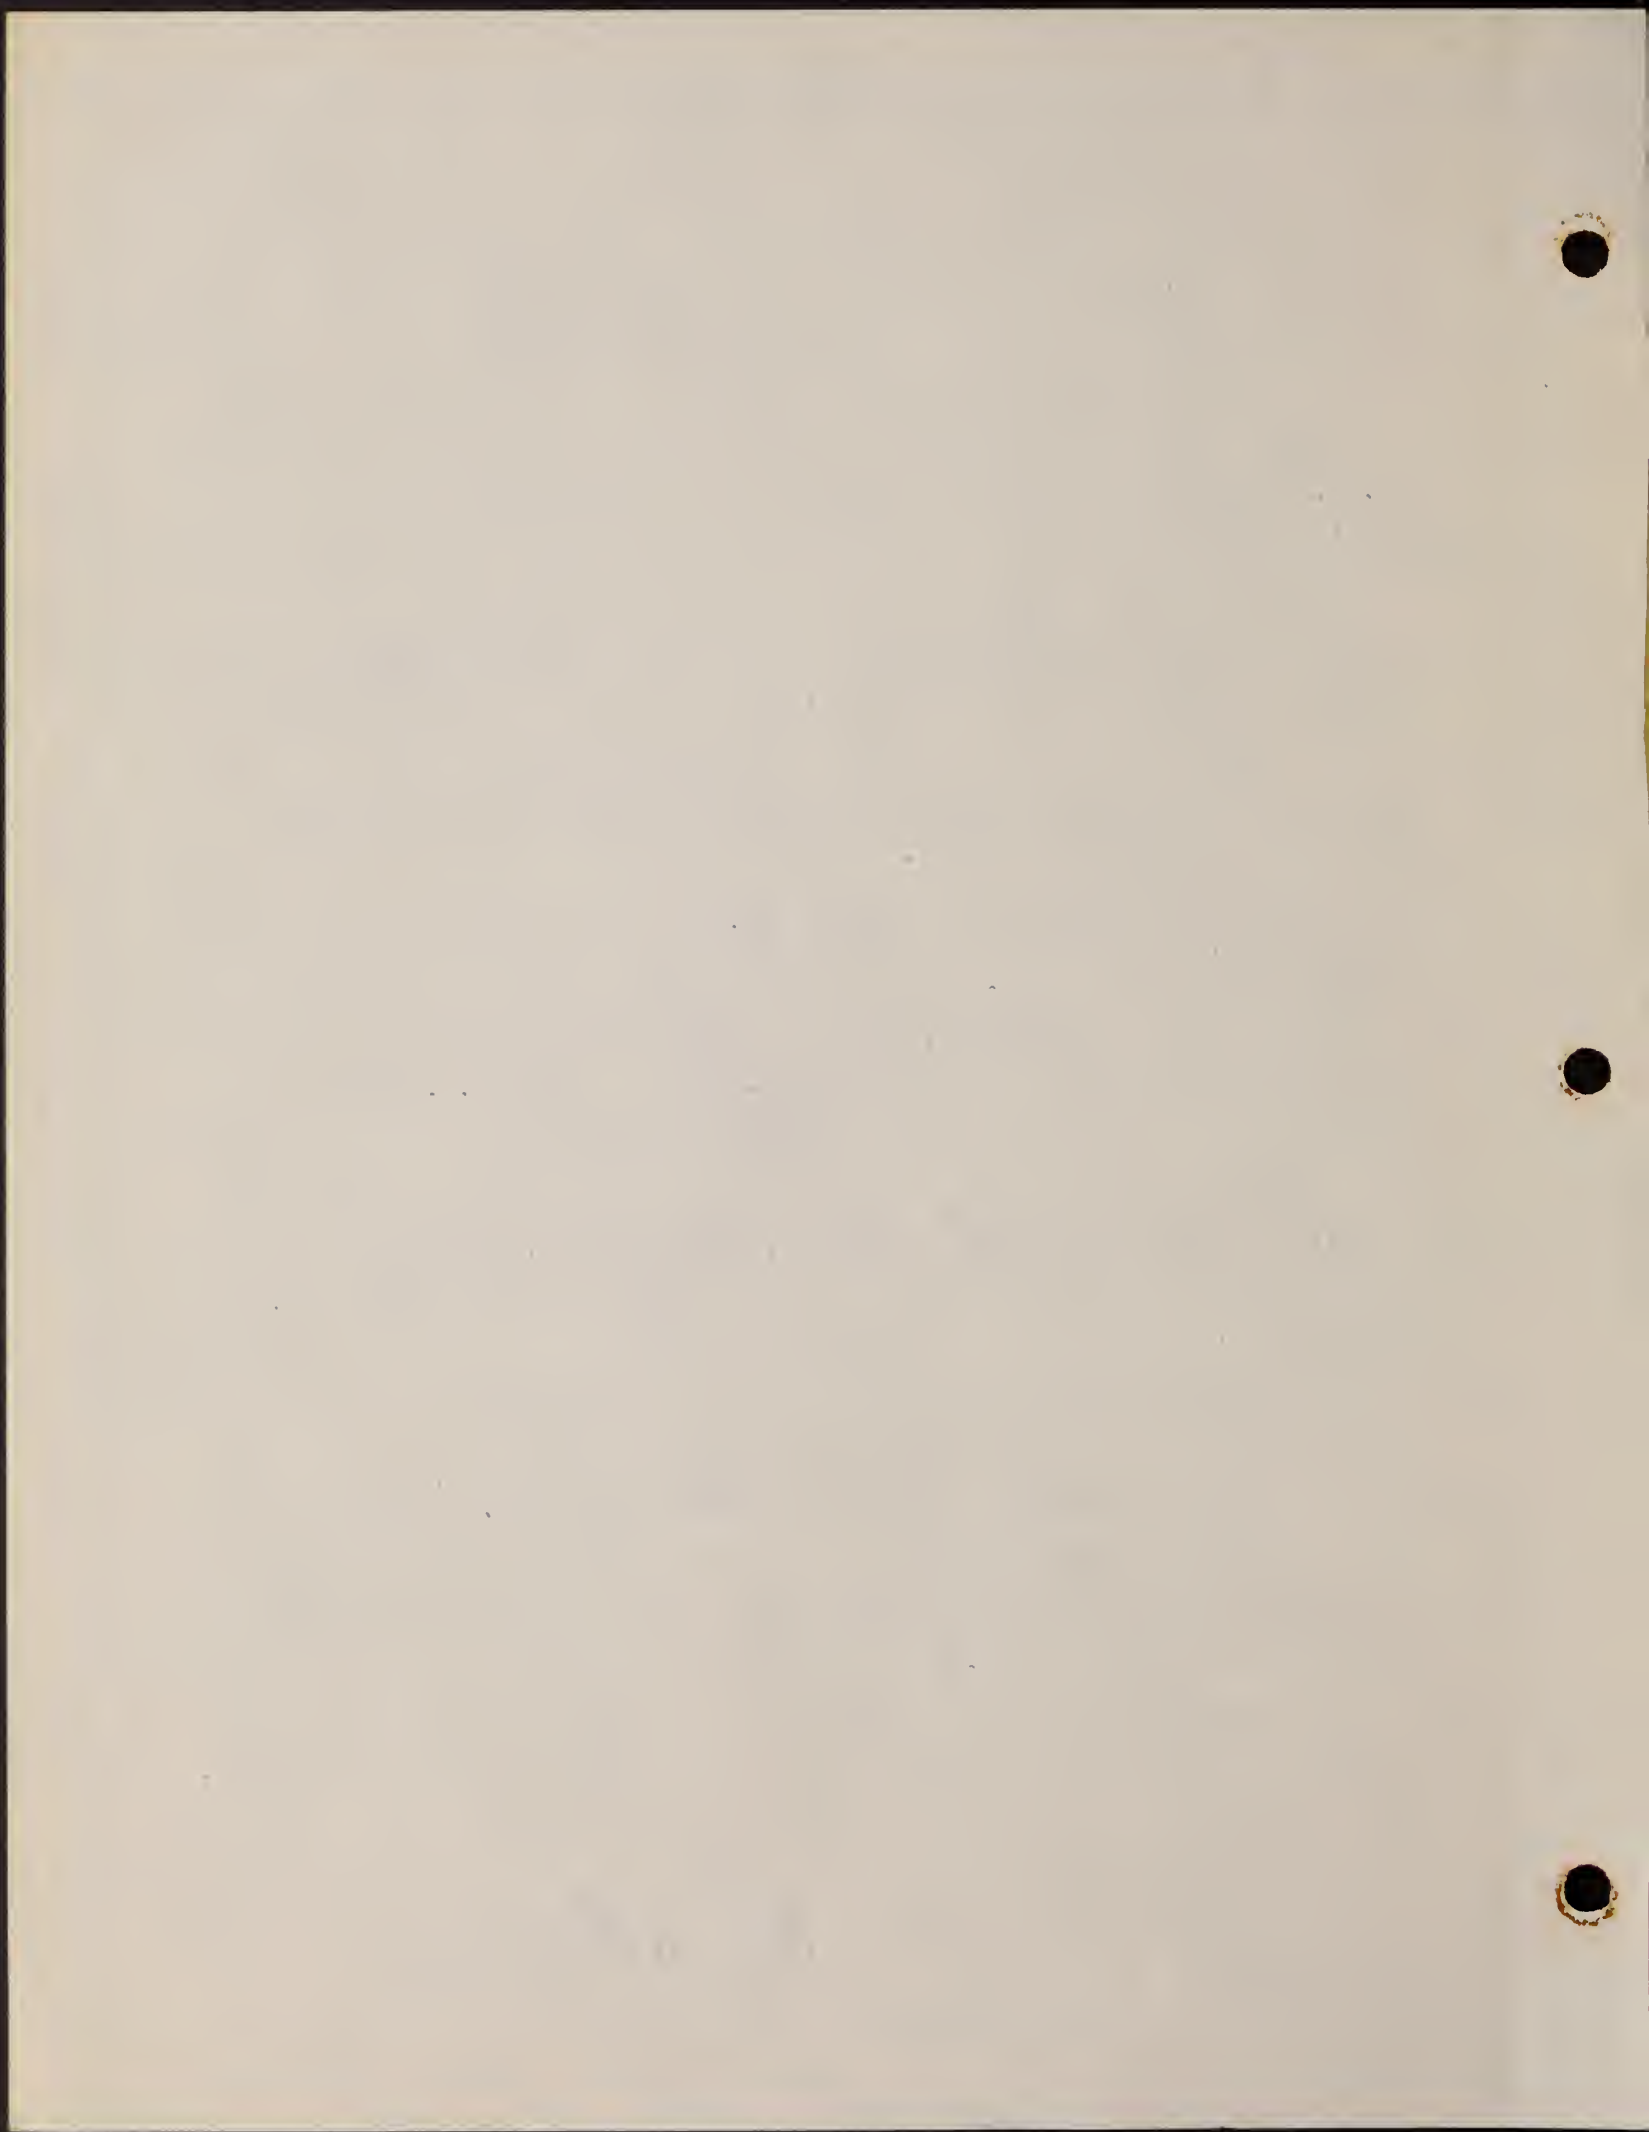

Another source cited--in Grimsby, Ontario--has long been known to me as completely unreliable, even imaginative about the facts, capable of hallucinating documents which do not exist as well as ignoring documents of unchallenged authenticity.

Fearing that this mess may fall into unsophisticated hands, I have suggested to Miss Elsie that she recall all copies she has so far mailed put.

With kindest regards,

Richard P. Eckels

Dulmage Family History

(By J. N. A. Dulmage)

The family name was originally spelled Dolmericht. David Dulmage was born in and left the valley of the Rhine, Germany, in 1709, and settled in Ireland. David Dulmage, his son, was born the 15th day of March, 1746, in the County of Limerick, Ireland. Mary Jennings, wife of David Dulmage, was born 1st day of January, 1747, in Lancaster County, State of Pennsylvania in North America.

In the American Revolution, David Dulmage took sides with the British and at the close of the war he and his wife and a brother named Joel or John Dulmage came to Canada. The brother located near Prescott in Augusta Township. David and wife located at the head of South Bay in the County of Prince Edward. They brought with them three children who were born in Albany County in the State of New York. The names of those children were Elizabeth Dulmage who was born 24th Oct., 1771, in Albany, N.Y. County; Margaret Dulmage who was born 14th Oct., 1773, in Albany, N. Y. County; Jacob Dulmage who was born 27th Aug., 1775, in Albany, N. Y. County; Catherine Dulmage who was born 9th June, 1778, died 9th Sept., 1779.

The rest of the family were born in P. E. C., Canada, and named Ned Dulmage, John Dulmage, David Dulmage, James Dulmage, Mary J. Dulmage and Philip Dulmage who was born 9th Aug., 1791, and they married as follows:—

OBITUARY

W. J. BRADLEY

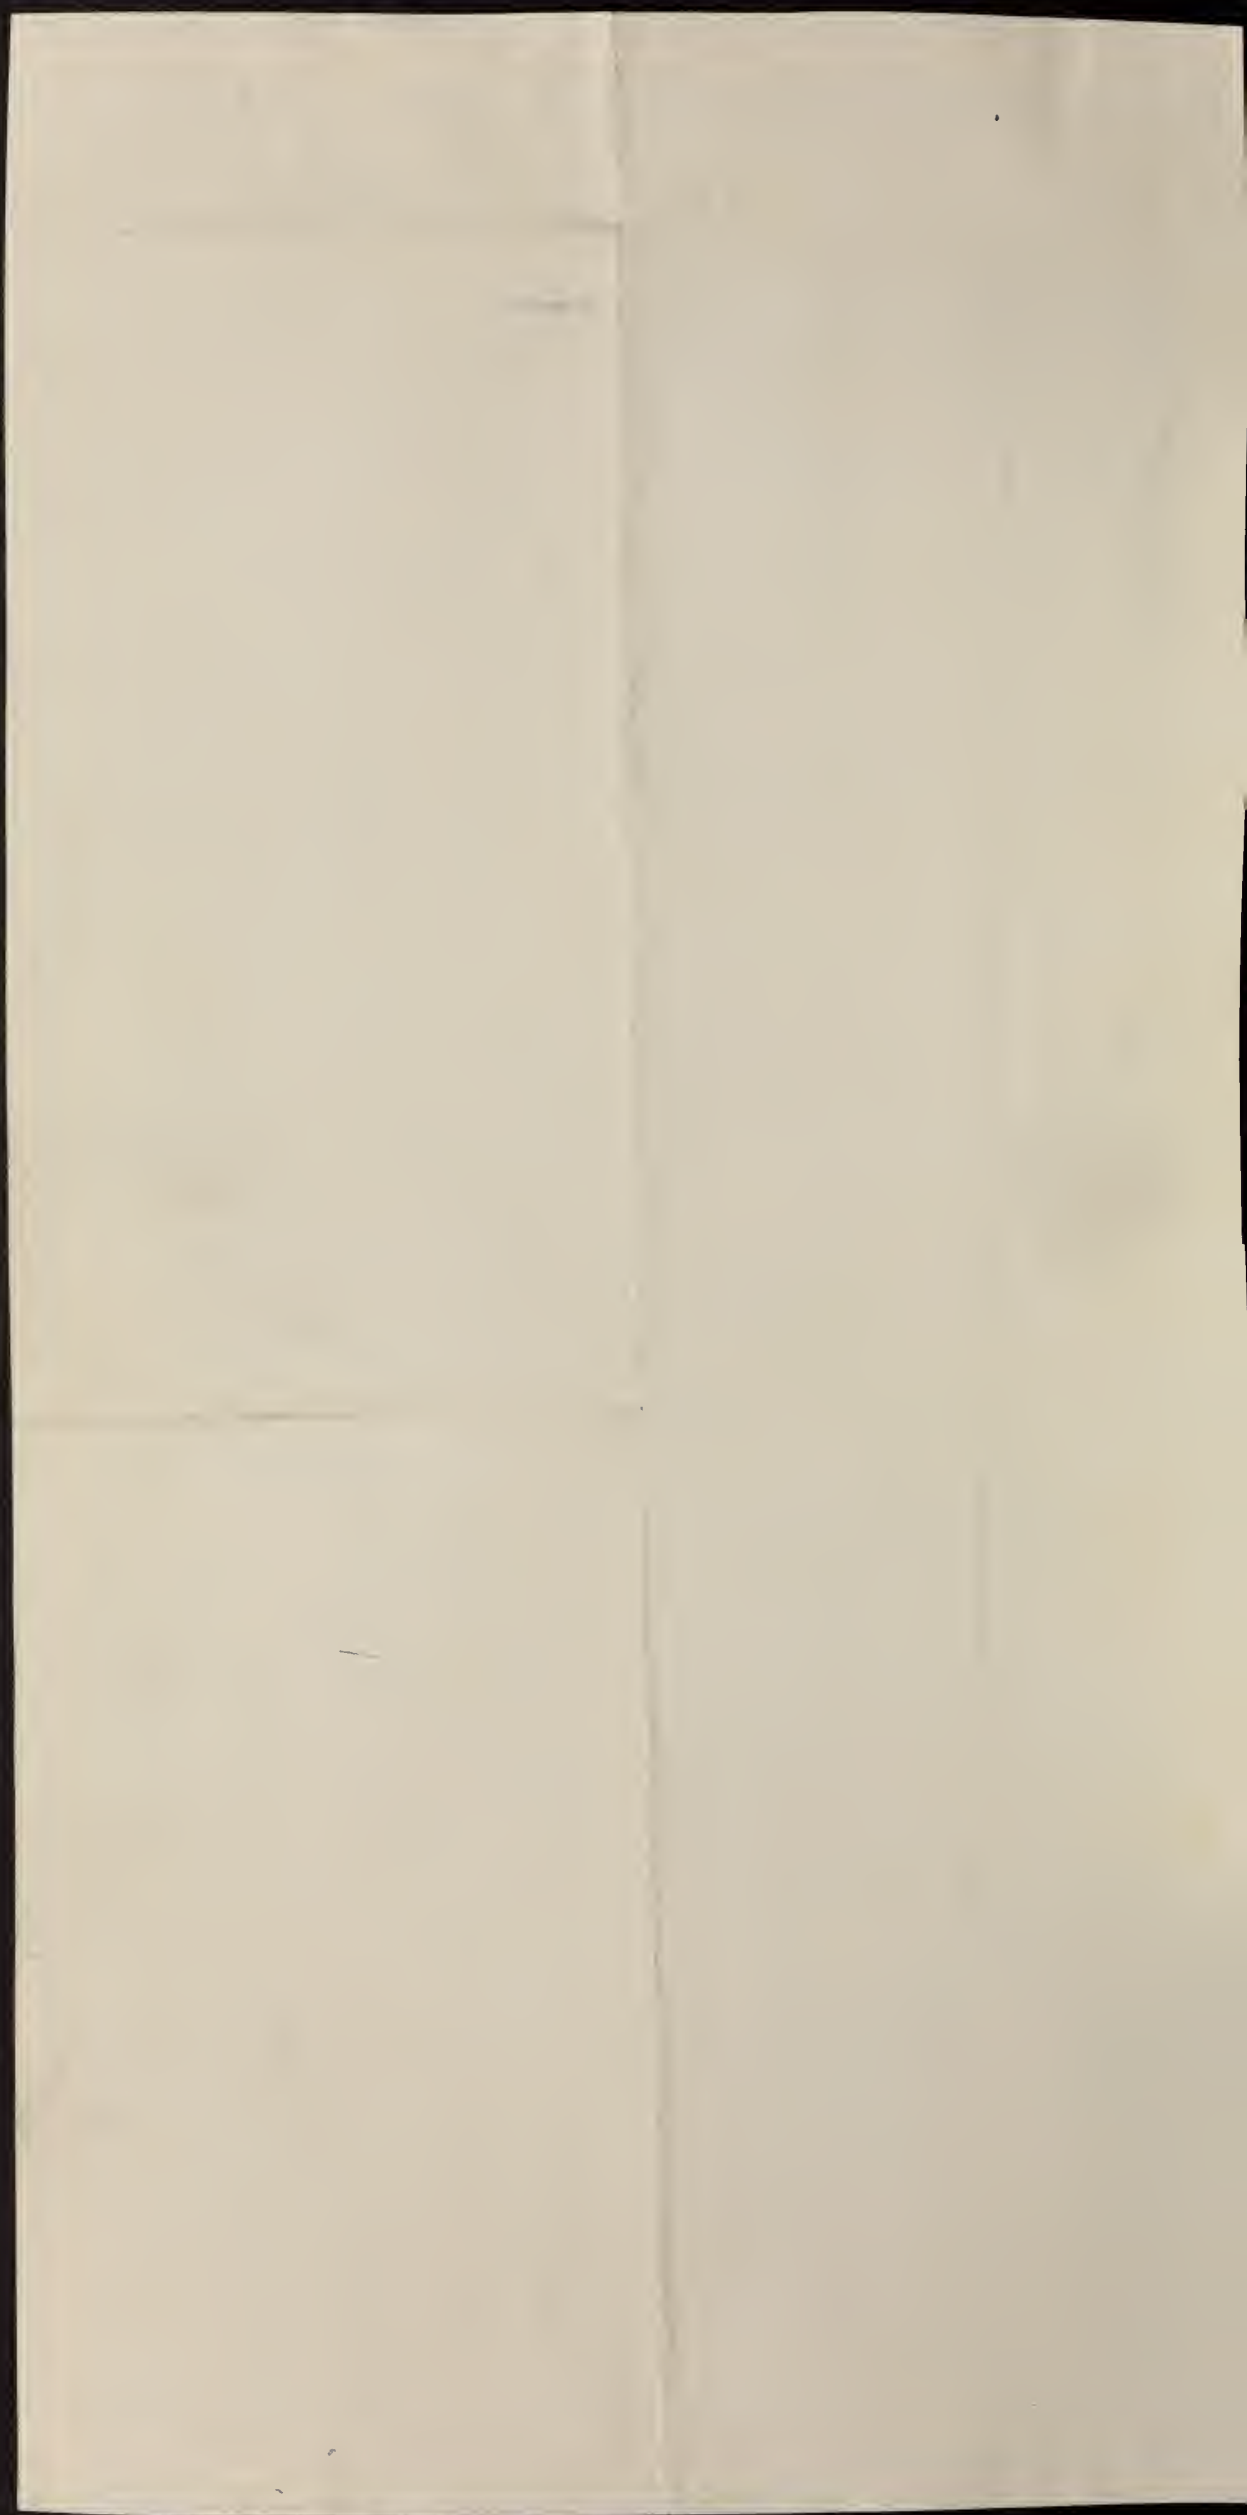

William James Bradley, prominent Elora business man and proprietor of the Iroquois Hotel, died suddenly as the result of a heart attack following failing health during the past two years. Mr. Bradley was a native of Picton, where he lived the early part of his life. Forty years ago he married Bertha Ostrander in Picton. Before going to Elora many years ago, Mr. Bradley had been in business in New Hamburg as a partner in the Dominion Threshing Company. He was a member of the United Church and in politics a Liberal. He was also a member of Picton Lodge, A.F. and A.M. Interment will be in Picton Cemetery. Besides his wife, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Witz and Mrs. Albert Farquhar, Elora, and one son, James, at home.

Mrs. Cecilia Elizabeth Pierson

On Monday, March 19th, at her late residence, Cherry Valley, there passed to the Great Beyond, Mrs. Cecilia Elizabeth Pierson, wife of the late William H. Pierson. Mrs. Pierson was the daughter of the late John Rorabeck of Point Peter, during the many years of her illness and dual decline in health she had the loving care and devotion of her only daughter, Miss Della, who appreciated the fullest extent the privilege of not only ministering to the needs of a fond mother, but of the companionship and affections derived from daily association with one from whom so many lessons of patience, kindness and uprightness might be learned. Although Mrs. Pierson was a person of quiet and retiring disposition, always enjoyed and appreciated the attentions and kindnesses shown her by many friends, and which helped to lighten the lonely days for her. During her last illness, which was of short duration, although her suffering was intense, she showed remarkable patience and consideration for those in attendance, passed peacefully on leaving, besides daughter Della, a sister, Mrs. John R. of Bloomfield, a brother, Spencer Beck and two step-sons—Charles of Milford, and Harry Pierson of Elora.

Many beautiful floral offerings and loving sympathy and the high tribute in which the deceased was held, her friends will long remember her kind neighbor and a woman of good qualities.

Not dead; she has but passed
And the realm of mortal sight
At Divine abode of Love,
Where all is Life and Light.

Dr. H. C. Burleigh,
P. O. Box 9,
Bath, Ontario.

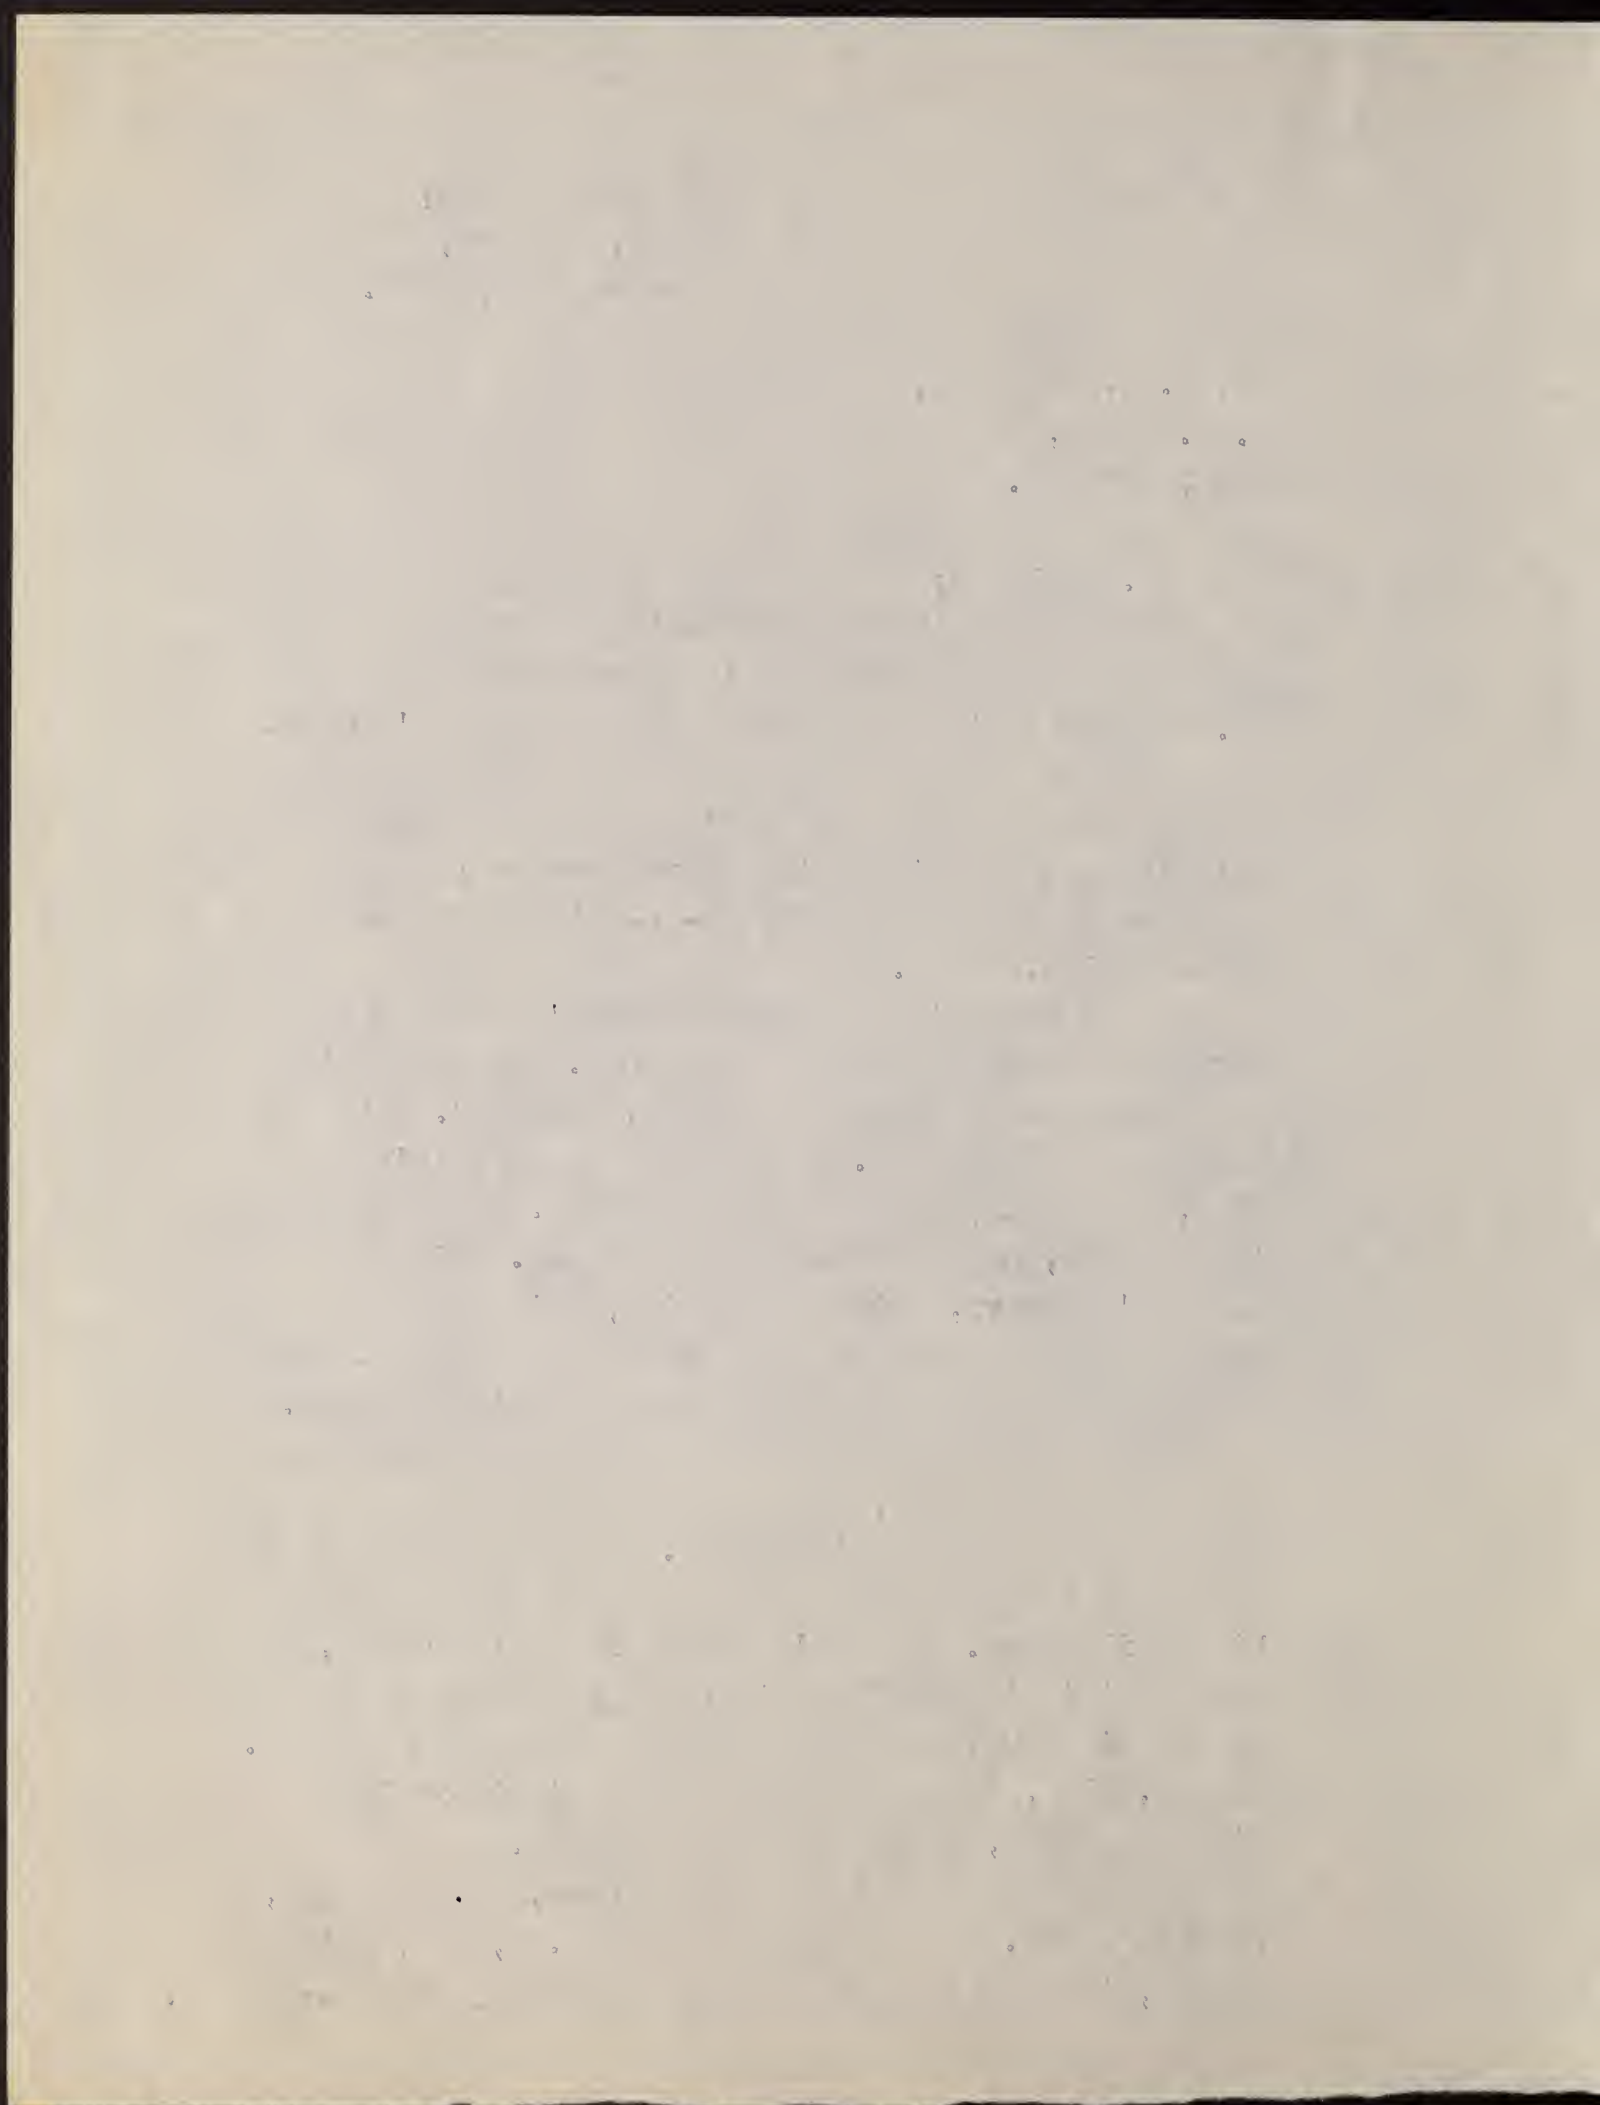

Dear Dr. Burleigh;

May I take these few moments and thank you most sincerely for your kindness in forwarding me the data re. membership in the United Empire Loyalists' Assoc. Many thanks!

I had not realized how time had elapsed~~ed~~ so quickly since receiving that form from you; but I was very glad to be brought up-to-date on the other aspects also. ha ha.

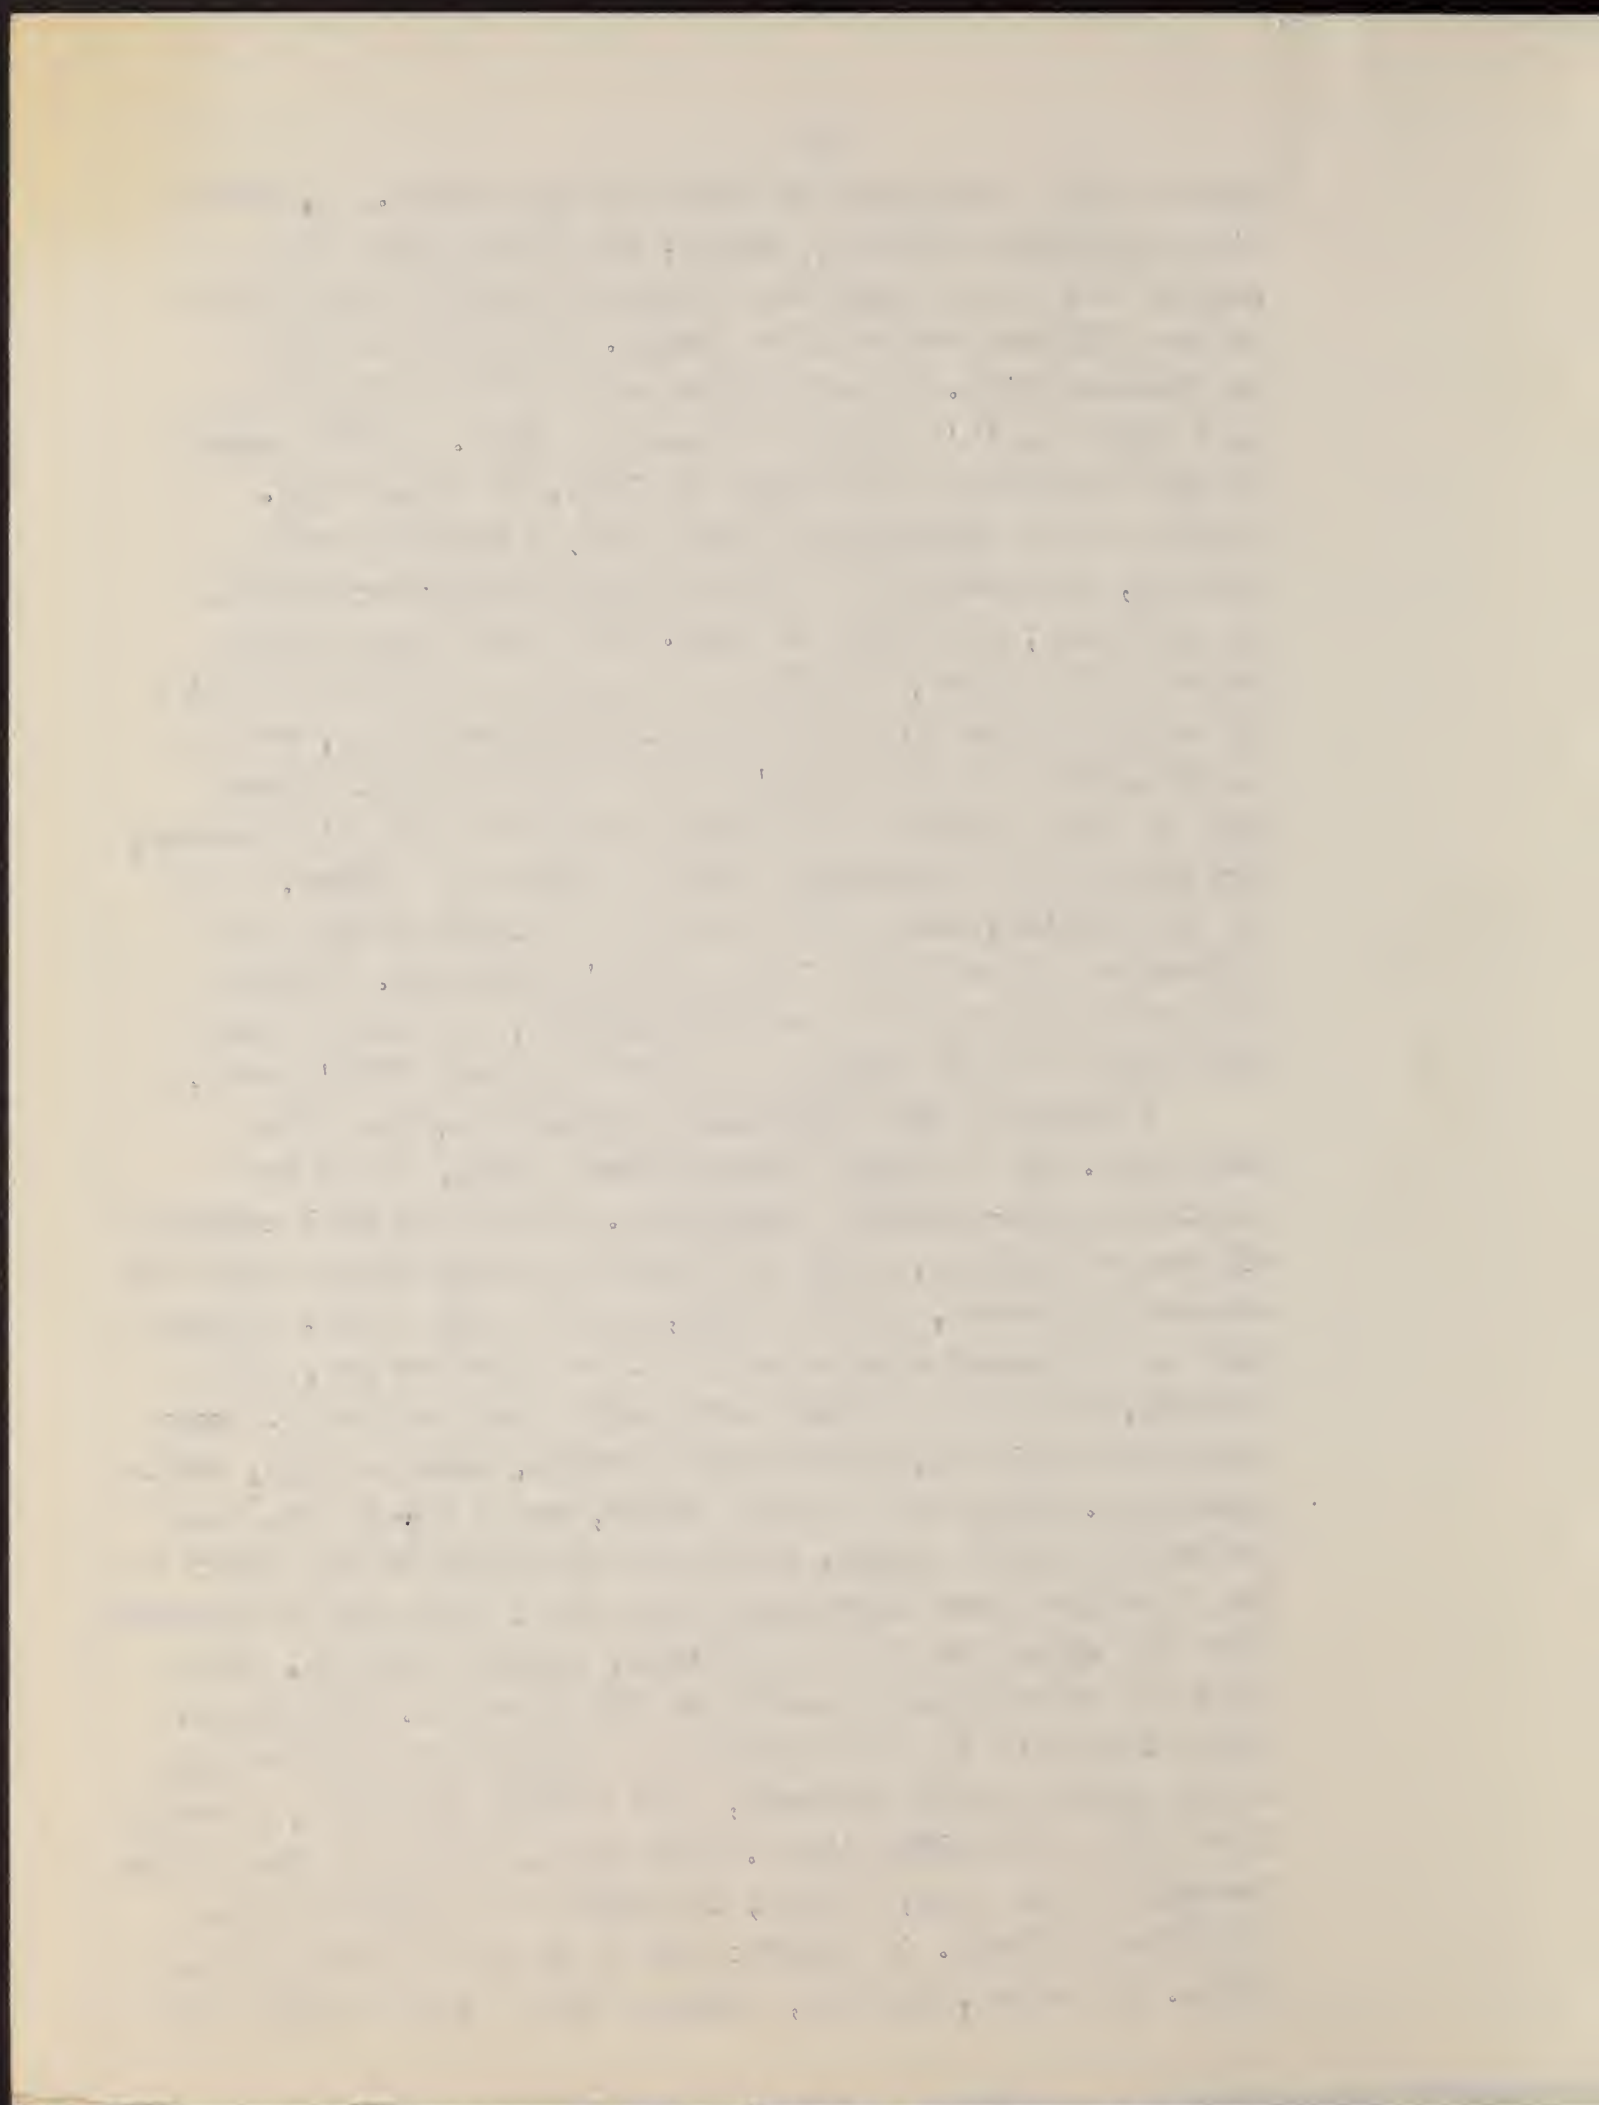

I am enclosing my grandchildren's names and births that are presently registered. You will note in the name of my 4th son Phillip, "Curtis". This boy is an adopted son. He was born to Phillip's wife, Elizabeth, prior to her marriage. He was born in Manitoba, on a farm close to Dauphin. Phillip met the boy's mother, Elizabeth~~h~~ Zwina, while she was a nurse at the Norfolk General Hospital in Simcoe. She told Phillip of her mistake prior to their marriage. He accepted this and after their subsequent marriage both he and his wife, went out west and brought the boy to live with them in Simcoe. They eventually went through the legal channels and Phillip gave the boy his family name. The boy's mother is a fine woman. I thought this information might be of service to you and to his (Curtis) future plans of becoming a member. I feel, also, this to be my responsibility in laying his groundwork, if the need ever arises.

I would like to talk a bit longer, Dr. Burleigh, on matters re. my childhood and youth. I, too, think these matters are relevant to my membership (if accepted).

While still a youngster (8 years of age approx.) I, along with my younger brother, Gerald, was placed into the care of the Loyal True Blue Orphange located at that time on the Glenora Road outside Picton. It later was moved to Richmond Hill. We were taken out of the institution just prior to it's moving to Richmond Hill. In the summer of 1920 through to the summer of 1923, we lived here. During one of those particular years, I cannot recall clearly, we were paid a visit by the Govenor-in-General, at that time, Lord Byng of Vimy. Those were very trying years in our lives, (Gerald and myself) and as the result of, both, a broken home, and being institutionalized, we had our thinking put out of it's proper perspective. I feel that if only parents would try to resolve their differences, our society and nationhood would be much the better. I am of the opinion, our major problems originate within the structure of the family life and it's contents. I think you will agree there is no easy way out, one has to work very hard at their marriage as well as their life's work.

I attended the Belleville High School, now since long gone. Due to, these circumstances above, I was not permitted post-secondary schooling. As you are well conizant of, Doctor Burleigh, money and other material things were not showered upon one, at that time, as they are today. However many of my former classmates and I am happy to say, still friends, went on to become outstanding men and women. They were and still are, very humble persons, consequently, their greatness. Among one of those chaps, was a boy by the name of Arnold (Arnie) Brown. He is now the Chief of the Staff of the Salvation Army throughout the world. Arnie and I delivered fish and chips for his late father, Arnold Brown Sr. Their place of business was located at 179 Front St. Belleville. Arnie could put it all together so easily and was the means of my learning many subjects, that without his help, I would have been a dismal failure. When he was chosen by the former General of the Army, Coutts, to leave his position at the Territorial Hdqts. in Toronto and to go to the International Hdqts. in London, England, General Coutts commissioned Arnie immediately upon his arrival, a Colonel and made him Public Relations Sect. He gave him a two-fold job. First he delegated him to set up a senior Advisory Board which the Army never had, in spite of their vast social work, and then he was to put on a capital campaign for $10,000,000. Arnie said the first night, he walked along beside liquid history, The Thames, over Roman history, the roads and streets. He said that he passed St. Paul's so many times during the night that he was sure that he was familiar with every stone in it's great facade. His wife, Jean, was home in Canada. He was alone with His God! The very next day, a message came to his office that the Queen wished to have him visit her at Buckingham Palace. He could not figure out why the Queen would pick out a humble son of a fish and chip merchant to pay her a command visitation. However the day arrived for his scheduled visit and as he was ushered into her presence, all the anxieties and frustrations faded into oblivion, he said. Her kindness and understanding set him at ease. She told him that she had been following his life and assignments with interest. Arnie said that through her, many doors of cartels and other corporations, that would have been inaccessible to the ~~Key~~ Army, were opened up and the campaign was a huge success. At this particular time, Gt. Britain was not unlike today, economic storms and to give added impetus to the task, there is no taxable allowances for income purposes. It was through this great effort that Arnold was made The ~~Chief~~ Chief of The staff in 1969, 5 years after becoming the P.R. What a great guy! Look for his name as the future General.

Another chap that was brilliant and humble, and I am sure that you would be interested in this story also. His name is Austin Smith. Smitty and I played ball together on a school team, he had an excellent pair of hands and played 1st base. I played at 3rd base and would make many bad throws to Austin but invariably he would dig them out of the dirt or pick them out of the ether, away over his head, and save me a throwing error. He went on to Queen's and studied medicine. He left for the U.S.A. and lives in Chicago. He later became the Editor of the American Medical Journal. I think he was the Editor for 10 years. This would be in the era of late '40's - '50's. Austin is a victim of diabetes. Perhaps "victim" is not the proper word. He is still living and will be doing great work for both the medical field and the populace for a long time yet, I am sure. Yes, Austin had a great pair of hands, a great surgeon, but it took me many years to put the ball games etc. and his hands into their rightful place. Like Arnie, what a great guy! There were and are, many more from those days, but time will not permit to elaborate on them all. I am reminded of these wonderful people, when each Xmas. time I read their sincere and kind messages. Although I was not in his class, he being ahead of me a year or so, I have a friend in Milton. Each year I receive a nice card from he and his wife, Mary. He is the Judge Advocate of Halton County. His name is Judge Alan Sprague. That is a well-known name among Hastings and Pr. Ed. Counties folk. Alan is a very kind and understanding man, considerate and fair; but metes out severity on occasions, when it demands. He is a strong man, morally upright, a credit to his profession.

Again Dr. Burleigh, may I thank you for any help that you may offer me! I made one mistake and entered a record on the wrong page as you note, however, if you wish to have me do it over, feel free to return it and I shall comply with your wishes. My wife and I will be visiting in the Belleville area sometime during April, around the week of the 21st, we will be registered at the Quinte Hotel and will be using that as a base. We wish to go over to Ficton and purchase an oil painting that is relevant to Pr. Ed. County life. We do not own a car but will be commuting by bus. I trust that in the not too distant future our paths may cross. I would love to visit with you for an hour or so if you could spare me this out of your busy life. Drop me a line anytime, I shall answer any questions etc. to the best of my ability, honestly.

I too wish to be known as,

Loyally yours,

Wm. B. Palmatier
(Bix)!

September 7, 1968

In addition to these three branches, there were about three more emigrants from Ireland in the earlier years of Victoria's reign. I looked them all up in the Ottawa archives two years ago; without checking into my notes, I'll simply record my impression that they were all retired soldiers, veterans of the Napoleonic campaigns, but not visibly related one to another.

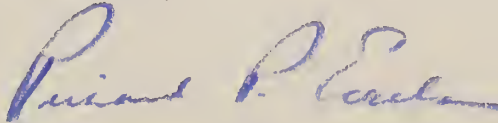

I suspect that there is something seriously wrong with the lineage claimed by the Delmage descendants in Camden Township. Is it possible that one of the family found Burke's Landed Gentry of Ireland (1912) in some library and used that as his starting-point? The Rathkeale records in this instance serve to correct the Burke lineage, but then omit to mention any Joseph Sampson Delmage among the children of Captain Julius Delmage, so that the chain is twice broken.

Perhaps you can induce the Camden Township people to proceed backward from themselves to parents, grandparents, etc., providing dates and documents for each genealogical event. There is little or no question of their descent from the refugee of 1709, but a series of very important questions about the in-between generations.

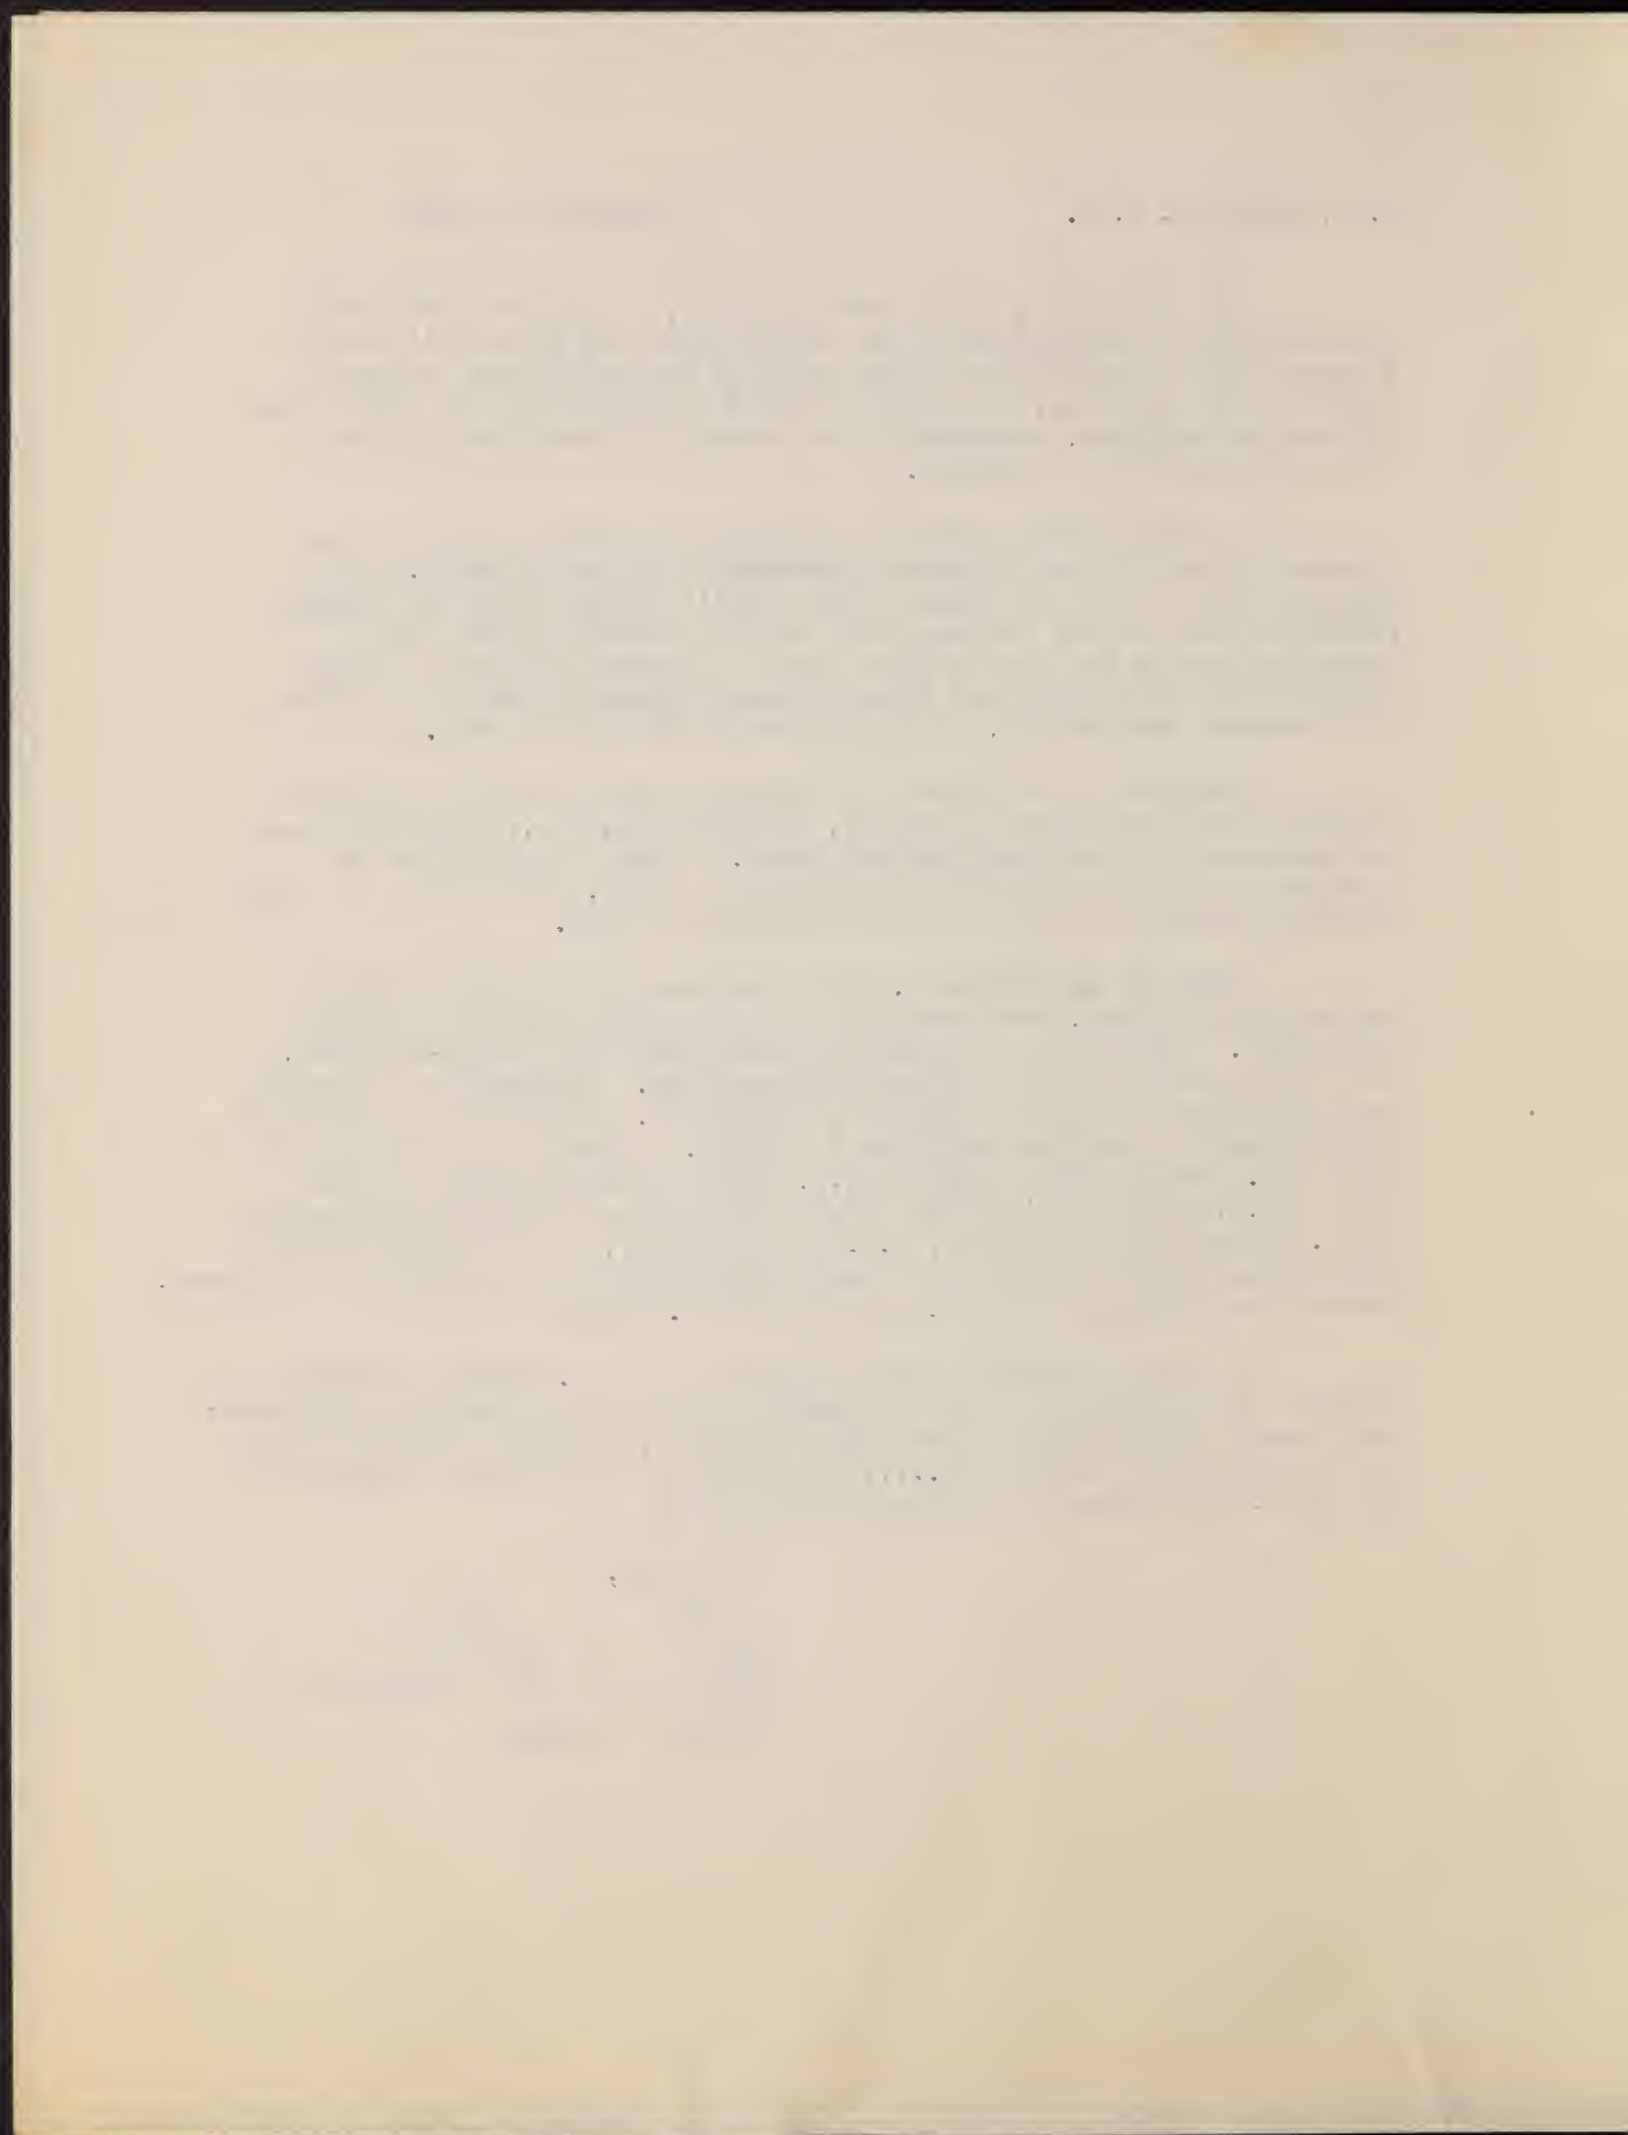

Thus the De/o/ulmages, whom I expected to be such a simple project in genealogy, have turned out to be simply maddening in their complexity. The records range from excessively full to non-existent, not on any continuum but in great quantum-jumps. Rathkeale, as already mentioned, has its merits and also its demerits. There is a good run of usable stuff in the land petitions in Ottawa. There is also an estate file (Hon. Preston King, sometime U.S. Senator from New York) in the Canton (N.Y.) Surrogate's files which is unsurpassed for the descendants of Lt. Colonel Philip Dulmage, U.E. (my ancestor), some of whom received 1/240th shares in his relatively small estate but in the capacity of Galloway, rather than Dulmage, heirs--i.e., through Mrs. Philip.

I do not understand your allusion to the D. family in Western Ontario. I do not know of any in Preston, but I know of some in Kitchener; their exact lineage has not yet been worked out, but their ancestor seems to have come over ca 1839 also.....Should we perhaps confine ourselves to the two U.E. branches, ignoring all the others?

Sincerely,

Richard P. Eckels

Mr. Eckels
INFORMATION EXCHANGE has extensive genealogical records of four

U.E. Loyalists and their descendants:

Lieut. (later Captain) John Dulmage, Grenville County;

Private (later Lieut-Colonel) Philip Dulmage, Grenville Co;

Sergeant David Dulmage, Prince Edward County;

Jacob Dulmage, Prince Edward County;

all of Jessup's Loyal Rangers. John and David were brothers. Philip was John's son; Jacob was David's son.

My own membership in the Association is based on descent from John and Philip. While there are many Canadians bearing the Dulmage name, virtually all of these descendants of either John or of David, I may be the only member of the Association who has proved his ancestry from either, but I shall be most happy to assist any others in filling out their papers.

Dr. H. C. Burleigh
Bath, Ont.

Dear Doctor:

Here I am again to bother you and hope you can help you. I trust you had a pleasant and enjoyable Holiday Season.

I have been in correspondence with Mrs. Alice Delmage Fawcett now living in Los Angeles, Calif, formerly Alice Delmage of Camden and who was born there 90 years ago and suggested I write to you and says you have "Dulmage in your blood".

Since writing you previously about my grandmother Elizabeth Ann Oliver Cronk Dulmage, I have gathered the following information which I believe belongs to her.

John Oliver - Born 1812 - son of either John, Cornelius or Aaron Oliver grandson of Frederick Oliver who was with Indian Department under Col. Claus and served all thru Revolutionary War

In the 1850 Census is shown:

John Oliver - Born 1812 - Methodist, laborer, Township of Ernestine - Addington
Wife died in last year due to confinement age 39 (born 1811)

children

Hannah Oliver Born 1834
Jack Oliver Born 1836
Mary Oliver Born 1837
Ophelia Oliver Born 1842
Sarah Oliver Born 1844
Elizabeth Ann
Oliver Born 1847
Adelina Oliver Born 1849

We, the Dulmage family, know that Elizabeth Ann Oliver Dulmage's mother died when she was very young and that she had a sister Adeline.

Elizabeth Ann Oliver's mothers maiden name was Cronk but from the information in the Census we have no idea of John Oliver's wife's maiden name - but that she was born about 1812.

Re Cronk Family - from Alice D. Fawcett
Abraham Cronk family came from Holland and settled in New York Province. After the Revolution their estates were confiscated. Abraham fought in Royal Ranks and settled in Sophiasburg where as an UEL was granted 200 acres of land. On corner of the old place is now to be found Lazier cemetery, land which he donated the township for buiral purposes.
Abraham had 6 sons and 2 daughters - Jane and Sarah.
Sarah Cronk married James Way and settled in Sophiasburg and is a distant relative of Alice Delmage Fawcett.
Could this other daughter Jane Cronk, be the Cronk I am looking for.

Did this Jane Cronk marry John Oliver about 1832 and die 1850 in confinement.

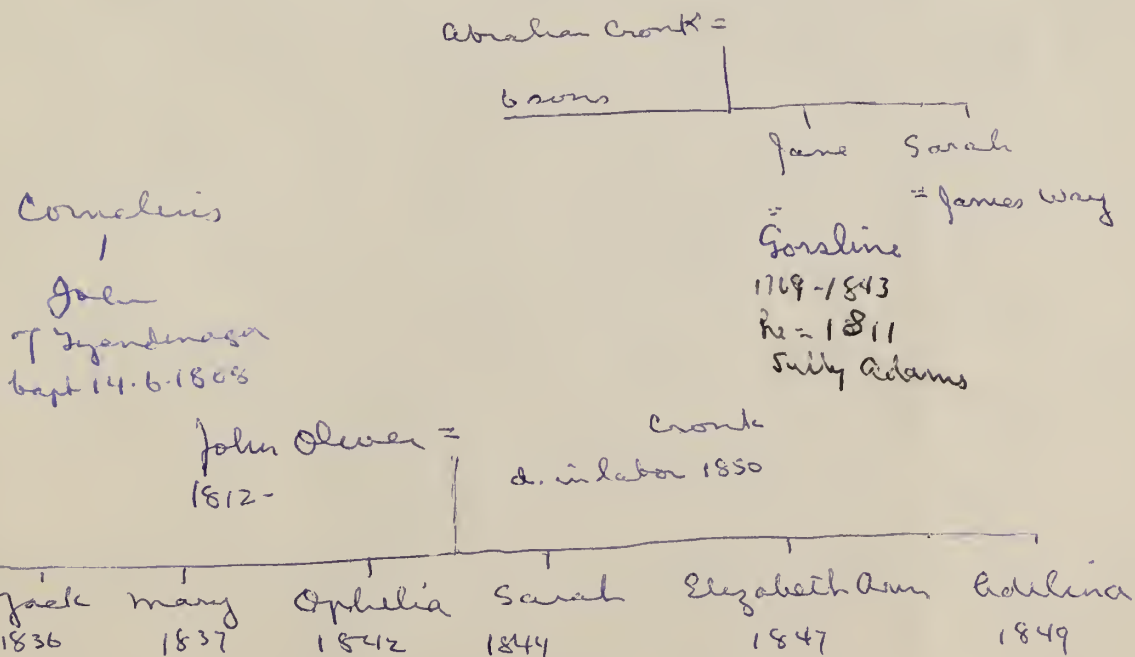

Do you have anything you can tell me about Jane Cronk born about 1810 or John Oliver born 1812?

If you charge for this information, kindly advise.

Yours truly,

E. Dulmage

Dear Doctor Burleigh:

A letter was written to you on April 5 and not having heard from you I was wondering if my letter had reached you safely.

It was regarding the parents of my grandmother,

Elizabeth Ann Oliver.

If you are not able to do anything re this matter, I would appreciate hearing from you.

Yours truly,

E. Dulmage

Dear Miss Dulmage:

I am sorry to be so long in replying to your letters. For one thing, I am no longer a young man, and am more or less retired from a demanding profession. In addition, I receive many demanding letters, all asking me to run errands, dig into family relationships, etc., etc. To make it much worse, I am trying to put together a collection of notes and items regarding our early history. Moreover, I am married, have children and grandchildren, as well as a demanding Siamese kitten. So, I'm a busy man.

Your Oliver connection poses a difficult problem. I find it difficult to advise you. Was she married as Miss Oliver? As I see it, she might have been using either her own name, or the one used by the people who raised her. It is possible that, by driving to Napanee and reviewing the Surrogate Court records, as well as wills and land records, something might turn up. But, in this regard, hours of search might end up with nothing. It is a most uncertain task.

There is, however, ~~conflict~~ considerable information on the ancestors of Eliza Miller, the wife of Alexander Dulmage. There is also an indication that Alexander had a previous wife, as well as children.

There is another matter which you should understand. Clark's Mills is not in Napanee. The last place in the county town, not the place of residence of the Dulmages. Clark's Mills is now the village of Camden East, in the Township of Camden. Therefore, the census records of Napanee will surely nothing. Only those of Camden Township will reveal details of the family. To make it worse, our census records only cover 1851, 1861 and 1871. But, even these may not add too much to what is already known, although they might reveal the details of the family who raised Elizabeth Ann. In this regard, did you note that there was an E. A. Oliver among those Oliver census records that you sent me. As I recall, this E. A. was born about 1847, instead of 1850. Is it possible that she is the one you seek, and that your informant was wrong in the matter of Elizabeth Ann's age?

Your only course of investigation is for you to come East for a few weeks, or to hire someone to do the search for you. Even so, it might be a slow exhausting process, and perhaps with little or no result.

Still, let me assure you. There is a record somewhere, if you know where to look.

I am sorry to be of so little help to you.

Yours sincerely,

Albert

Dear Doctor Burleigh:

I have received your letter re my grandmother -
Elizabeth Ann Oliver, wife of Augustus Dulmage.
Born 1850 Napanee, and we understand her mother died shortly after and Elizabeth Ann was raised by an Aunt.

I will endeavor to answer questions as much as I can:

1. You state Census records of Richmond and Napanee for 1851, 1861 and 1871 should be checked.

(1851)

I wrote the Archives in Ottawa last year for the Census of Napanee and they sent me the Census of Richmond. I am attaching herewith a list of the Olivers shown also the family of "Cronk" which was the maiden name of Elizabeth Ann Oliver's mother.

2. Name of Aunt who raised her. I am not sure. Believe it was an Oliver - but could have been Cronk. Could not have been a Dulmage - as that was her married name when she married Augustus Dulmage in 1868 in Napanee.
3. Review of Registry Office Papers, Napanee for land records and wills which might prove her parentage. I do not know if there was any property but years ago families usually owned the land they lived on.
4. Surrogate Court Records - ?
5. Heir & Devisee Papers, Toronto Archives.

Elizabeth Ann Oliver, born 1850 Napanee, married in 1868 at Clark
Mills to August Dulmage.

I have no record of brothers and sisters but can remember as a child about 1915 a sister of Elizabeth Ann Oliver Dulmage, visited us and her name was "Adeline" - she was an older sister and was married to a man by name of Coates from Gananoque. When Elizabeth Ann was taken by her Aunt - she evidently lost track of her family and it was many years later when this sister Adeline had an ad in the Salvation Army War Cry asking for information about this missing sister. .

From what I know Elizabeth Ann Oliver Dulmage lived in Canada all her life. She and her husband moved to Orillia about 1872. Three children born in Napanee and 4 children born in Orillia. They moved to Rat Portage via Winnipeg in 1884 - 2 children born in the West.
Both Elizabeth and her husband lived in Kenora, Ont. (was Rat Portage) and Elizabeth is buried there - died 1929. Am attaching a list of the children.

This is about all the information I am able to give you. I should have started this checking up about 30 years ago when members of the family were living.

The Census of 1861 and 1871 might show up something.

I wrote the Wesleyan Methodist Church Records in Napanee in March of this year, thinking they might be a baptismal record, but they reply stating they do not have the records that early. I also wrote the Town of Napanee but they replied stating they had no record of births previous to 1869.

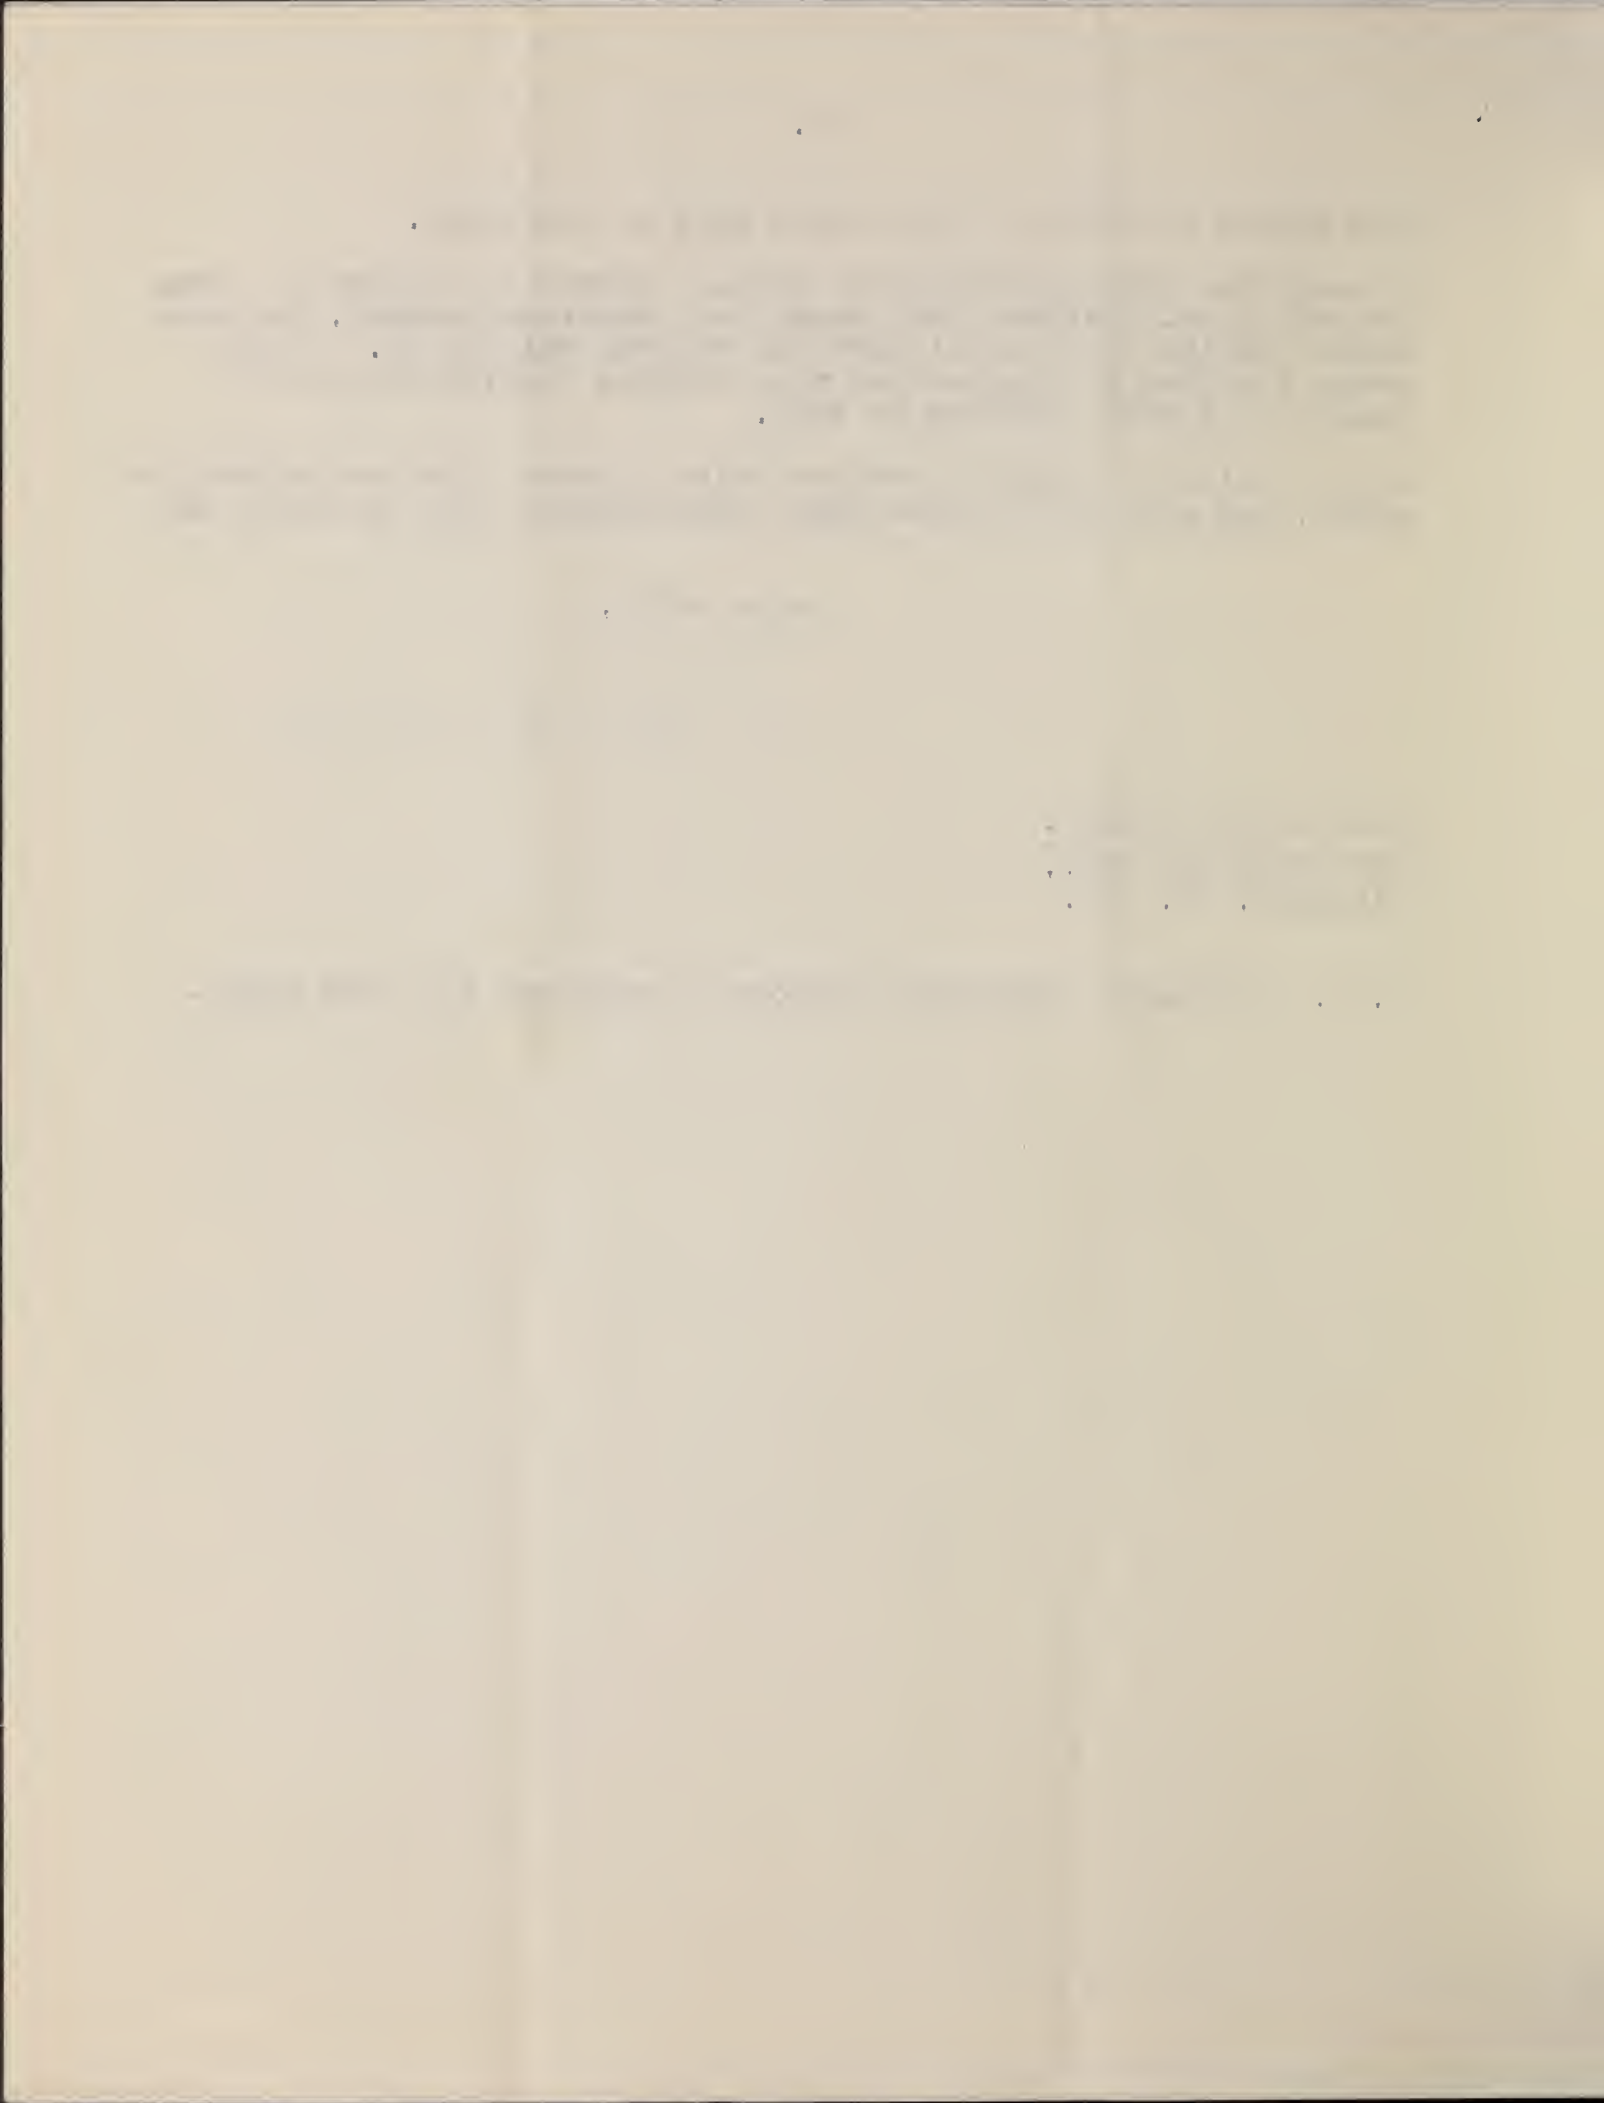

Do you think you could locate anything further from the information given, and also let me know what approximately your fee would be?

Yours truly,

P. S. a stamped addressed envelope is enclosed for your reply.

Dulmage Family History

(By J. N. A. Dulmage)

The family name was originally spelled Dolmericht. David Dulmage was born in and left the valley of the Rhine, Germany, in 1709, and settled in Ireland. David Dulmage, his son, was born the 15th day of March, 1746, in the County of Limerick, Ireland. Mary Jennings, wife of David Dulmage, was born 1st day of January, 1747, in Lancaster County, State of Pennsylvania in North America.

In the American Revolution, David Dulmage took sides with the British and at the close of the war he and his wife and a brother named Joel or John Dulmage came to Canada. The brother located near Prescott in Augusta Township. David and wife located at the head of South Bay in the County of Prince Edward. They brought with them three children who were born in Albany County in the State of New York. The names of those children were Elizabeth Dulmage who was born 24th Oct., 1771, in Albany, N.Y. County; Margaret Dulmage who was born 14th Oct., 1773, in Albany, N. Y. County; Jacob Dulmage who was born 27th Aug., 1775, in Albany, N. Y. County; Catherine Dulmage who was born 9th June, 1778, died 9th Sept., 1779.

The rest of the family were born in P. E. C., Canada, and named Ned Dulmage, John Dulmage, David Dulmage, James Dulmage, Mary J. Dulmage and Philip Dulmage who was born 9th Aug., 1791, and they married as follows:—

Jacob Dulmage married Sarah Huff and their children were: Nancy m. Abe Caniff; David died young, killed by tree while cutting sap troughs; Elizabeth m. Mathew Hicks; Mary m. James Collier; Jane m. Conrad Bongard; Eva m. 1st Daniel Snider, 2nd John Collier; Sarah m. Lewis Hudgin; Lydia m. 1st James McQuoid, 2nd James Lowery; Solomon m. Ann Zwick; Johnathan m. Crista Wright; Peter m. Elizabeth Wright.

David Dulmage married Annie Roblin and their children were: Thomas m. Elizabeth Cosper; Philip m. Eliza Hudgin; Andrew m. Mary Trader; James m. Rhoda Garrison; Alexander m. Eliza J. Hooper; David R. m. Sally Palmatier; John m. Sarah Maden; Sarah m. John Church; Jane m. Zachariah Palmatier.

James Dulmage married Elizabeth Hendesay. He moved to State of Ohio and as far as known had children: George; John; Olive m. Augustus Axtell.

John Dulmage m. Lucy Knapp. Had one child named Lucy Ann whom Nancy Caniff brought up and she married a Robinson and lives in Adolphustown.

Philip Dulmage married Lydia Ostrander, born in the State of N.Y., daughter of Isaac and Sarah Ostrander. Queens Patent May 21, 1794.

Children: David m. 1st Irene King, 2nd Phoebe Edmonds; Owen Roblin m. Margaret Striker; Edward m. Sylindia Striker; Andrew died young; Henry m. Minerva Cole; Thomas m. Isabella Hudgin; Philip Almond C. m. Almiria Brown; Jacob m. Ellen Denard; Mary Ann m. Henry Young; Lydia m. Parker Ketchum.

Ned Dulmage married Patience Clapp. Children: Sheldon m. Maria Clark; James m. Maria McQuin; Nancy m. William McKenzie; Mary Jane m. 1st Nathaniel Thorn, 2nd Miller; John m. Eliza McQueen; Alphus m. Annie Cadman; Edward m. Augusta Benson; Jacob died young; Ben married three or four times in U.S.A.

Joseph Peterman; Mary m. John Anderson.

Of Philip Dulmage's family, the one named Thomas (father of the writer) married Isabell Hudgin. Their children were: Amelia A. m. S. D. Collier; Sarah J. m. Nelson Garrison; John M. m. Heneritta Palmatier; J. N. Alfred (born May 8, 1854) m. Jenny M. Maxan.

Their children were: J. C. Dulmage m. Viola Dulmage; Lewis E. m. Lillian Carman; Donald D.

and brought up another trail from Skagway, for the moral effect of getting the outfit well started.

Garnet was in his blankets when they returned. "I'm going to sleep till noon, boys," he said next morning. "If you feel so energetic, have a look at the trail above here. I've been hearing some bad rumors about it."

His misgivings did not weigh on their minds at first. They set out on this excursion in the light-hearted mood conferred by a scrubbing, a shave, a good breakfast and morning sunlight.

Avoiding the camp, they crossed a river bridge, and from there, by a steep and broken track which the pack animals of earlier comers had scarred out, climbed into some mountain ravines that began to reek with a mephitic odor of death. The shambles became more ghastly as they climbed.

In the dips of the so-called "trail" a series of quagmires had been enlarged to small mud lakes by the wear of successive hooves around the rim. The swollen carcasses of dead horses lay floating or half-bedded in muskegs and sloughs. On sheer mountain sides the trail dwindled in places to a cattle track, and its hazards to burdened horses and men were grimly proved by the relics that lay scattered in the canyon troughs.

Some travelers who appeared to have lost their horses, were struggling to hand-haul their packs thru a wallow not more than a mile above.

Oldsmobile is utilitarian and at the same time individualistic, incorporating with all the advantages of wind resistance reduction enhanced beauty of symmetrical lines.

Other new features are: A complete system of sound-proofing of body, chassis and motor; longer wheelbase and roomier interiors; increased economy of operation by means of improved manifolding and carburetion systems; increased power achieved through an entirely new design of cylinder head which still permits the use of standard fuel; redistribution of weight to give an even smoother ride by placing seat location between the axles; new design of the car front, with narrow and higher radiator grilles, new radiator ornaments, new fenders and restyled louvers; and the retention of the 1934 advancements, principal of which are knee-action wheels and hydraulic brakes.

Ten models are available in the Oldsmobile Six.

In the new Eight, five models are presented.

Simultaneous with performance improvement, a reduction has been effected in gasoline consumption. Actual tests reveal that the new Oldsmobiles perform better in every way than previous models. And yet gasoline mileage has been increased despite the fact that the Six has been stepped up from 80 to 90 horsepower and the Eight from 90 to 100.

The front of the car is entirely new.

BLAST ICE OF RIDEAU RIVER

20 men employing 40 cases of dynamite to clear the ice to prevent floods with spring break-up. During blasting operations unemployed were on hand to catch fish stunned by the blasts. The above picture shows one of the blasts going off.

Speed alluded to the subject that troubled him. "From where I set," the Westerner observed musingly, "which is looking at the sky—this man Fallon listens like four good aces to beat if not five. His havin' traces of catamount and curly wolf in his pedigree, I don't question. But he's got something else that makes a bunch of hard-rock, hard-mouth miners answer his jerk line. Offhand, I'd reckon that crossin' that man in any game was kind of hair-line play.

"What's his sequence with the woman I don't just get. Maybe none,

H. C. Burleigh, M.D., C.M.
Bath, Ontario

Dear Doctor Burleigh:

Of the various sources you mention, I've already been through all but Knittle. But I have just sent in my order for a copy of the 1965 reprint by the Genealogical Book Company, Baltimore, including five ship passenger lists which, as I understand it, were not in the original edition which I assume is the one you refer to.

I have had some splendid items of relatively minor importance from the Ontario Department of Public Records and Archives, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 5, and from the county archives in Brockville and Prescott. In general, these might be said to supplement and continue the stories as found in the Ottawa records.

The two letters enclosed from Mr. Bredenberg will serve to brief you on the nature of his private archive. In the small sample he so generously sent me I found numerous items which had eluded everyone else but him. I infer that his is a collection worthy of a place in a great university library.

As you are aware, I have been obliged to do all my work on the Dulmages and other U.E. Loyalist lines by correspondence. I have been fortunate in finding so many people who have done the actual field work and are willing, even eager, to share their choicest findings with me--in exchange for nothing in particular.

It is possible that you would discover an area of mutual interest with a dynamic young genealogist-historian I've recently met through correspondence: Hank Jones, 7245 Franklin Avenue, Apt. 22, Los Angeles 46, California. Hank is a recent Stanford graduate who is a singer (radio, TV, movies) by profession; his latest film vehicle is "Village of Giants" (Paramount). He is chiefly interested in his Barkman/Barrickman line; these were Irish Palatines from Rathkeale, County Limerick, emigrants to New York ca. 1760 who were on the rebel side in 1776 and later of Bennington, Vermont. Hank engaged a professional genealogist in Ireland, apparently for several months, and through her obtained complete transcripts of the Rathkeale parish records from about 1744 on. These provided much fresh material for his projected book on the Irish Palatines, some of whom (Dulmage, Heck) were U.E. Loyalists.

I was hardly prepared to find a close associate of Elvis Presley so well qualified as a historical scholar; Hank is also extremely generous with his material.

My Galloway line is through Sarah Galloway (c1770-1842), who married after 1784 Philip Dulmage, U.E. (c1761-1847), veteran of the Revolution and of the War of 1812 in which he was Captain; they lived in Augusta Twp., Grenville County, Ontario, and were parents of 12 children.

Probably she was sister to

1) Margaret Galloway (d 1837), mother of the Honorable Preston King (1801-1865), United States Senator. Both are buried in the same lot in City Cemetery, Ogdensburg, N. Y.

2)Galloway, father of Louisa (Galloway) Hill (1803-1868), wife of Ephraim Hill (1789-Aug. 31, 1856) and mother of 12 children

3) Martha Galloway (1781-1865/6) m. Duty Galloway (1780-1842)

On geographical considerations, this G. family appears to have had roots between Oswegatchie (Ogdensburg) and Heuvelton, and they were probably Loyalists in the Revolution.

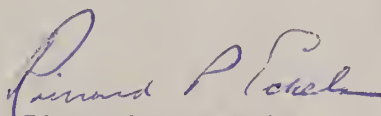

According to a note someone sent me, your "George Galloway claims 1300 acres of land, having been considered, as he states, as a Lieut. of Associated Loyalists, and as such he received 500 acres in 1784 from the Deputy Surveyor General under the Instruction of 1783. The Committee submit whether this petitioner's case may not be sent back to the Land Board, with directions to grant his request provided he can satisfy them that he did act as Lieut. of Associated Loyalists as by him set forth." The reference is to Public Records and Archives of Ontario, 1928 "Samuel Galloway, Sept. 23, Lot 21, 200 acres, Con. 3 township Richmond."

I also find references to him-- Land Board, Mecklenburg, 1791; Stamped Book, Provision list 1786.

The Galloways are of interest to Mrs. Florence Giffin Martin, 205 East 72 Street, New York 21, N. Y. Her ancestress Judith (Tibbits) Galloway was identified with Lisbon, New York temp. Revolution. It's possible that all three of us are related, but at present we all lack the connecting links.

Does the above give you any new clues?

Sincerely,

Richard P. Eckels

Dr Richard P Eckels,
Sarasota, Fla.

Dear Sir:

Replying to your letter of the 21st., I have about 65 items relating to the Dulmages, running from Nov. 1776 to 1788.

It costs me 5 cents each to have Xerox copies made, but I have an idea that you will find some good material. well worth the price. I have run across the names of John, Philip, Elias, Jacob and Mary. + 1

Lt. John Dulmage was in the first contingent of 28 men recruited by Captain Justus Sherwood, and which joined Carleton at Crown Point in late October 1776

These 28 men were the very first loyalists to join the British in the Northern Dept. I have a great of information on this group, from which quite a story could be written. Dulmage does not seem to have figured in any spectacular event - at least I have no written record, but he must have participated in some of the activities nevertheless. Lt John served 7 years altogether.

I would be glad to see what material you already have. No doubt it might fit in with some of what I have.

Sincerely,

Oscar E. Bredenberg
Oscar E Bredenberg.

I have also found reference to David Dulmage, and that Lt. John was closely associated with Lt. David Jones. fiancée of the famous Jane McCrea, who was killed and scalped near Saratoga.

Dear Mr. Eckels:

Re yours of the 29th Sept. I will send you the Xerox copies of the Dulmage material in a few days.

By way of introduction, I am retired, living summers ~~as you see~~ at Block House Point, in a blockhouse of my own design as you will see by the enclosing folder. It stands on the exact site of the Block House built by Justus Sherwood in July 1781, long since disappeared of course.

Under separate cover I am sending you a brochure containing a talk I gave a couple years ago. 500 copies were printed & they are all gone. Had a hard time to find some for the NY and Philadelphia libraries. Shall have to ask that you return copy after you have read it.

This is the type of work I am attempting, altho a rank amateur. Presently I am doing a series on the American and British boats on Lake Champlain during the Rev. I feel I have dug up some very worthwhile material - one winner at Library of Congress; two at Montpelier Vermont and the last two in the Archives at Ottawa. 20 solid months. I have assembled 50 volumes of transcripts, all quite well indexed. The material is such, that if I have any ability to write, I have enough material to draw from to make several books.

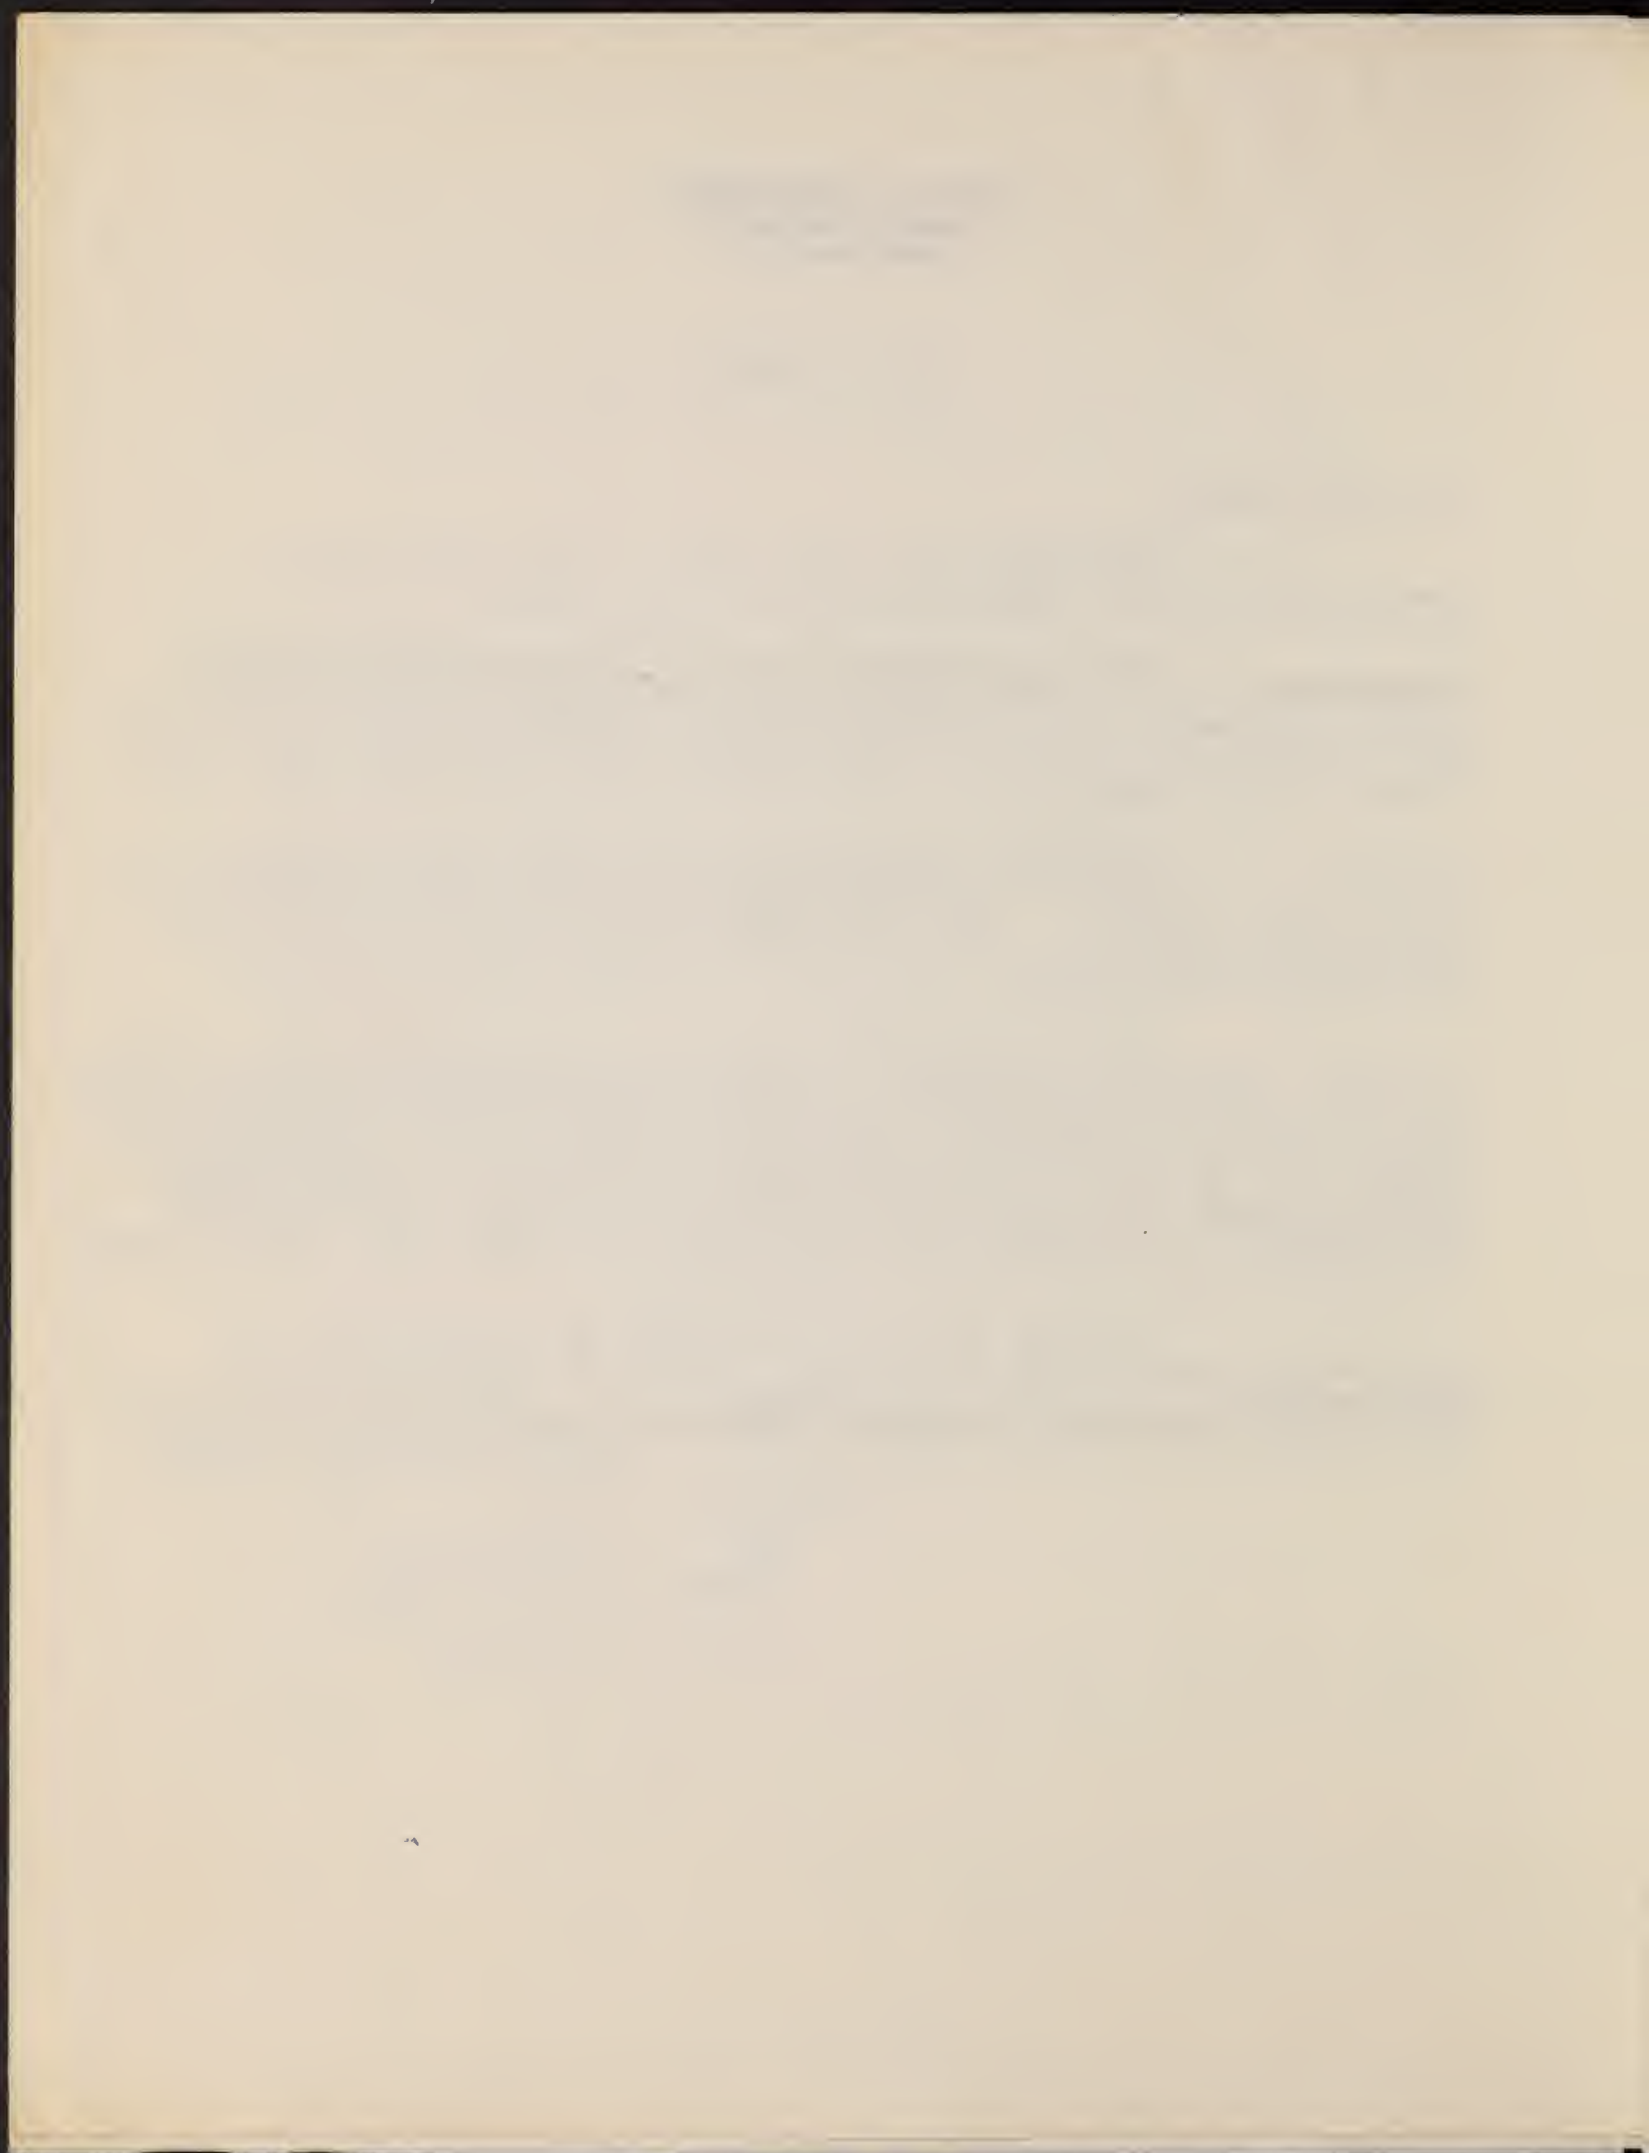

My final objective is a book on the Loyalists of Vermont and Northern New York, their exploits - especially in the Secret service. Sherwood's block house was the center of this activity from mid-July 1781 on for several years.

Dulmage would be included

Sincerely,

Oscar E. Bredenberg

Dear Mr. Dokels:

I have, sorry to say, hesitated too long in replying to your letter of April 6. I believe that my main reason was my embarrassment in thinking that I could supply you with Dolmage items which would be news to you. So many people write to me asking for information. Naturally one assumes that they know very little on the subject. However, on occasion one finds, as I suspect in your case, that my correspondent knows more than I do.

Your sources of information astound me, which shows that you have covered the ground very thoroughly. My sources are

The Palatine Migration, by Knittle.

Mrs. Lapp's investigations.

Maldinand Papers, which I have been through very thoroughly.

War Office Papers.

Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte (for David's family).

U. E. List.

Applications for land by Sons & Daughters of U. E. Loyalists.

Burke's Landed Gentry.

When I wrote before I was expecting to supply you with items from the Maldinand and War Office Papers, as well as to refer you to the Dolmage family appearing in the Irish section of Burke's Landed Gentry, of 1898. Very likely you have also seen this. If you have not, and cannot review a copy containing this item, let me know, and I will copy it for you.

I have never heard of the fifty volumes of historical documents transcribed by Mr. Fredenberg. This sounds like a most complete documentary. Where are these to be found? It looks as if I should know more about them.

I am afraid that I cannot add much about the other families mentioned by you. I suspect that Mrs. Lapp has the subject covered, seeing that she is collecting data on the Camden Valley people. I do have an abbreviated genealogy of

The Embury Family History & Partial Genealogy, by Mrs. William J.

Embury, of Farmington, Mich., which she gave me in return for my assistance; genealogically, it deals with the Fredericksburg Emburys.

Seven Generations of Carscallens by Julia Carscallen Lapp.

I am quite familiar with only one branch of the Galloways--namely that of my third great grandfather, George Galloway who settled in Kingston in 1784 as a young married man. I have collected some notes on people of this name, but nothing of value to me. Evidently my branch belonged to those Scots who settled in New Jersey and the Highlands of Orange County, N. Y. We might go into this family more thoroughly if I knew your relationship to them.

If there is anything I can do, after reading this, please let me know.
Yours sincerely,

Dr. H. C. Burleigh
Bath, Ontario

Dear Doctor Burleigh:

Your name was given me by Mrs. Edith Embury as one who might have some knowledge of the Dulmage family. (She did not specify why she thought you might.)

One of my greatgrandmothers was born Dulmage--in Brockville, Ontario. Within the past year I have succeeded in finding half a dozen genealogists who were interested in the family from one viewpoint or another, but all unknown to one another. Now that we have become acquainted all around and have swapped information, documents, and conjectures, most of the old mysteries have cleared.

I have now about finished consolidating the material which came to me from scattered sources; it will be useful as a sort of "armature" to which interested members of the family can readily connect an account of a small group of related individuals. Once that has been done 50 or 100 times, we'll have a moderately satisfactory family history. My own lineage on the Dulmage line is now well documented back to about 1689, but other branches have knowledge of coats of arms granted in 1580 and 1620, and the name itself is said to date from the latter part of the 12th century.

My particular Dulmage line includes two UE Loyalists: the father was Lieut. John Dulmage, and the son was Private Philip Dulmage (who became Captain in the War of 1812), and their post-Revolutionary homesteads were in the Augusta and Edwardsburgh sections of Grenville County where a few descendants are still living.

Sincerely,

Dr. Richard P. Eckels

WM. J. DELMAGE.

We regret to chronicle the death of William J. Delmage, of Milsap, who died June 7th, about midnight, after a sudden illness of only two hours. He was born at Camden East, on Sept. 27th, 1839, and was the son of the late Joseph Sampson Delmage, of Limerick, Ireland, who was of Palantine descent. His mother was Easter Williams, of Camden East. On Sept. 12th, 1876, he was married to Minettie E., eldest daughter of the late A. V. Price, who survives him. When an infant his parents moved on the farm in Camden, where he resided during his life time. He was a great Bible student, a man of sterling qualities, and strong principles of right, and justice in all his dealings. He was a great benefactor to the poor, and no one needing hospitality was ever turned from his door. He was a Conservative in politics, and a warm supporter of the Orange Order. Besides his widow he leaves six daughters to mourn the loss of a devoted father. The children are:—Mrs. Geo. E. Hawley, Milsap; Mrs. Frank Fawcett, Lancaster, O.; Miss Helen and Miss Edith, Cleveland, O.; Misses Julia and Genevieve, at home. The funeral will take place this (Friday) afternoon at 2 o'clock. Service at the house, thence to Newburgh cemetery.

the cement walk on Dundas street, between Centre and Robert streets, was being put down, and other walks attended to.

Councillor Meng asked what the Street Committee had done towards securing the estimates, etc., for a trunk sewer.

Councillor Waller stated that an Engineer had been brought from Kingston, and the matter was under way.

Councillor Kimmerly, Chairman of the Town Property Committee, asked for further time to report re late R. J. Wright property bequeathed to the town.

Councillor Osborne stated that he had attended a meeting in Belleville on Tuesday of last week, re power for municipalities, and gave a synopsis of what was done, a report of which appeared in last week's Beaver.

Moved by Councillor Waller, seconded by Councillor Osborne, that the Clerk be instructed to write the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada re spur line between the new B. Q. R. station and the G. T. R.

Bath, Ont., 17 Oct., 1960

Dear Ray:

Have received your welcome letter of recent date, and I hasten to answer it for several reasons:

1. Lest I may misplace it.
2. To help out the Dulmage lady.
3. To pass on some bits of information which I found in Albany recently.

As I have your letter before me, I can forget the first reason. With that behind, I can turn to the second.

I am always willing to help people with their ancestor hunting. At the same time, I feel that people wishing to qualify for membership in our organization should have to do some work for themselves. By so doing, they may come to appreciate their ancestry. However, in this case I am willing to go a little further, and ask you to promise to do as I ask. As I understand Mrs. Wilmot's ancestry, it is of Western Ont.

Daniel Wright Dulmage, wife unknown

Denton Dulmage, wife Agnes Macklam.

Judge Wilmot, whose wife was Helen Dulmage

This family evidently claims descentance from the Pr. Edw. Co. Dulmages, who had married into the Wrights. A search into these families produces the following:

David wife Mary Jennings Solomon wife Eva Daniel = William =
Dulmage Huff Swade Wright Harrison

Jacob Dulmage, whose wife was Sarah Huff James Wright, wife Ann Harrison

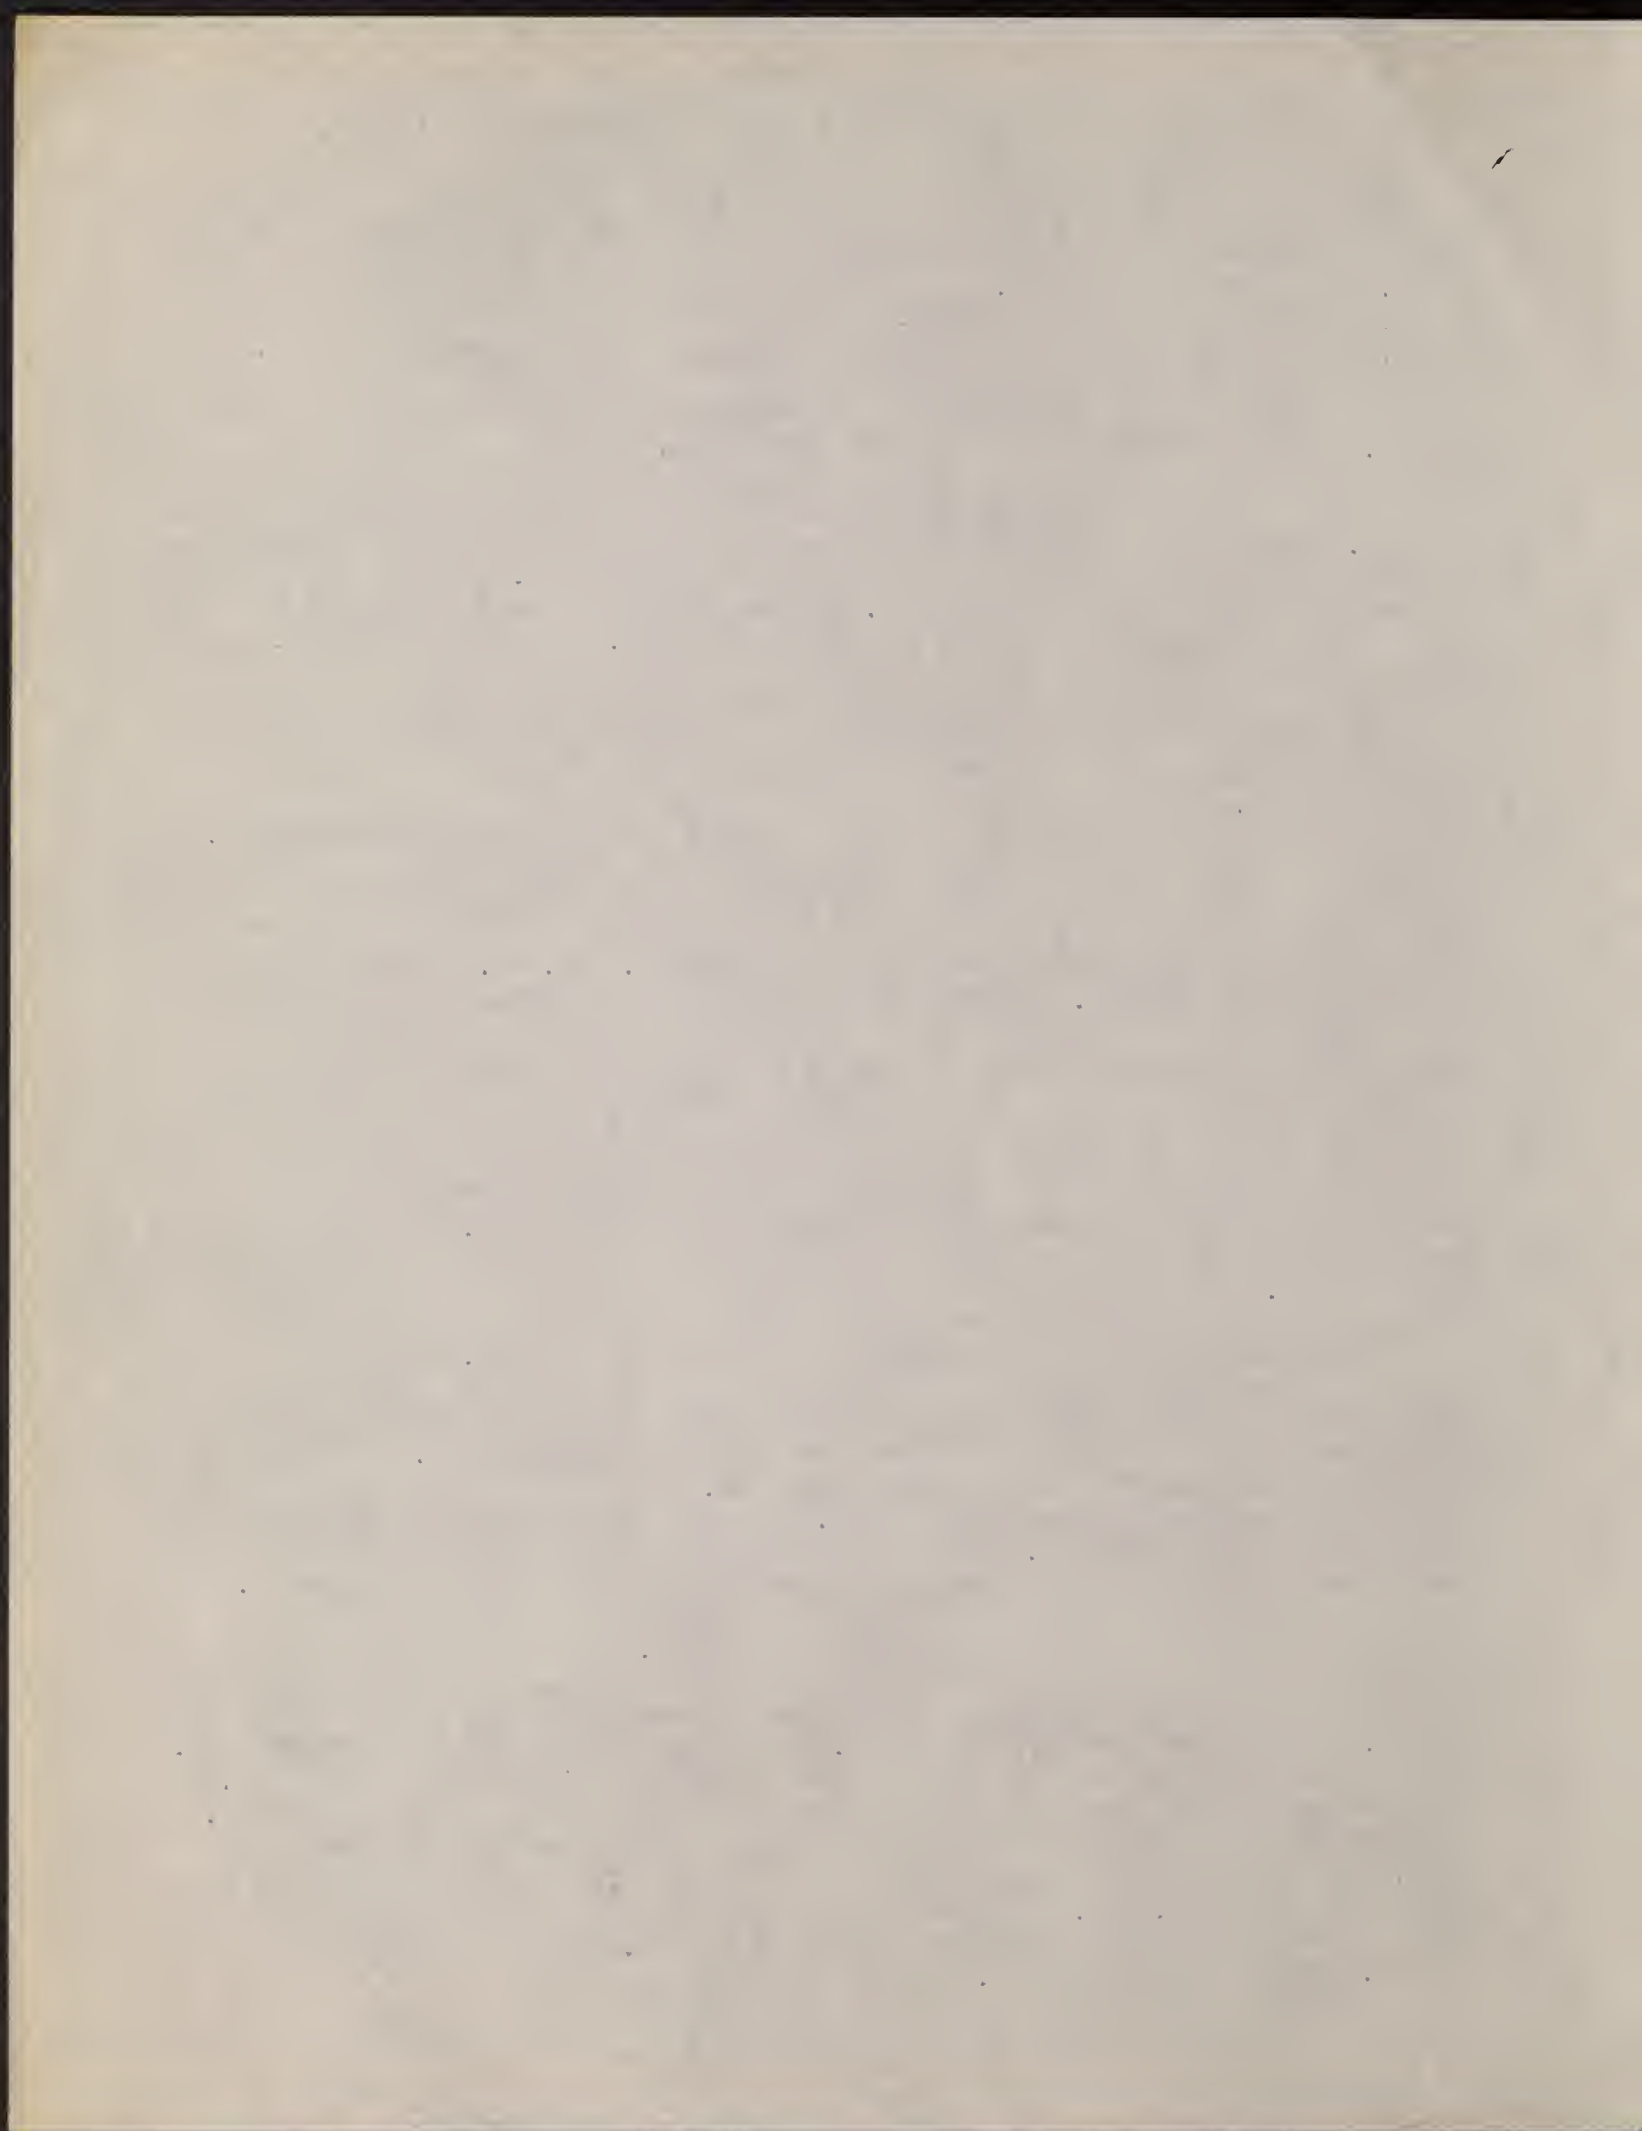

Nancy married Peter Dulmage whose wife was Elizabeth Wright. Her sister, Nancy,
John Canniff. of Brighton children married Isaac
Wellington

Daniel Heber Coleman.

Please do not tell her this Dulmage material until she can prove to you whether or not she actually has one of these brothers as a great grandfather. You might ask her if she ever heard of these Dulmage brothers. She might also be able to find cemetery records to confirm relationship. Really, Ray, it seems callous to be so cantankerous in this matter. But, as I have said, I feel that applicants should have to work a bit to furnish proof, not have it served to them on a platter.

Now for the third reason.

The Van Deusen Genealogy has this: Levi Bates (could this be Betts?) married 12 Jan., 1813, Fanny Shorts, born 5 Dec., 1792, daughter of John Shorts and wife. John Shorts was living on the banks of the Susquehanna River, likely in Penna. It is said that he had served in the British army which captured Kingston in 1758. He remained loyal, and, after joining the British, died in New York City about 1776. His wife and children made their way to Niagara, from which the family was sent on to Montreal. Mrs. Shorts died at Pointe Claire, and the children were left orphans, ultimately coming to the Quinte region. Fanny married a second time 29 Aug., 1855, to John Bernett.

St. Peter's Church, Albany, N. Y.

Baptisms.

Catharine, dau. of William & Mary Rogers, baptized 17 Dec., 1764.

William, son of William Rogers, Jr., & Gitty, his wife, baptized 26 March, 1768.

Marriages.

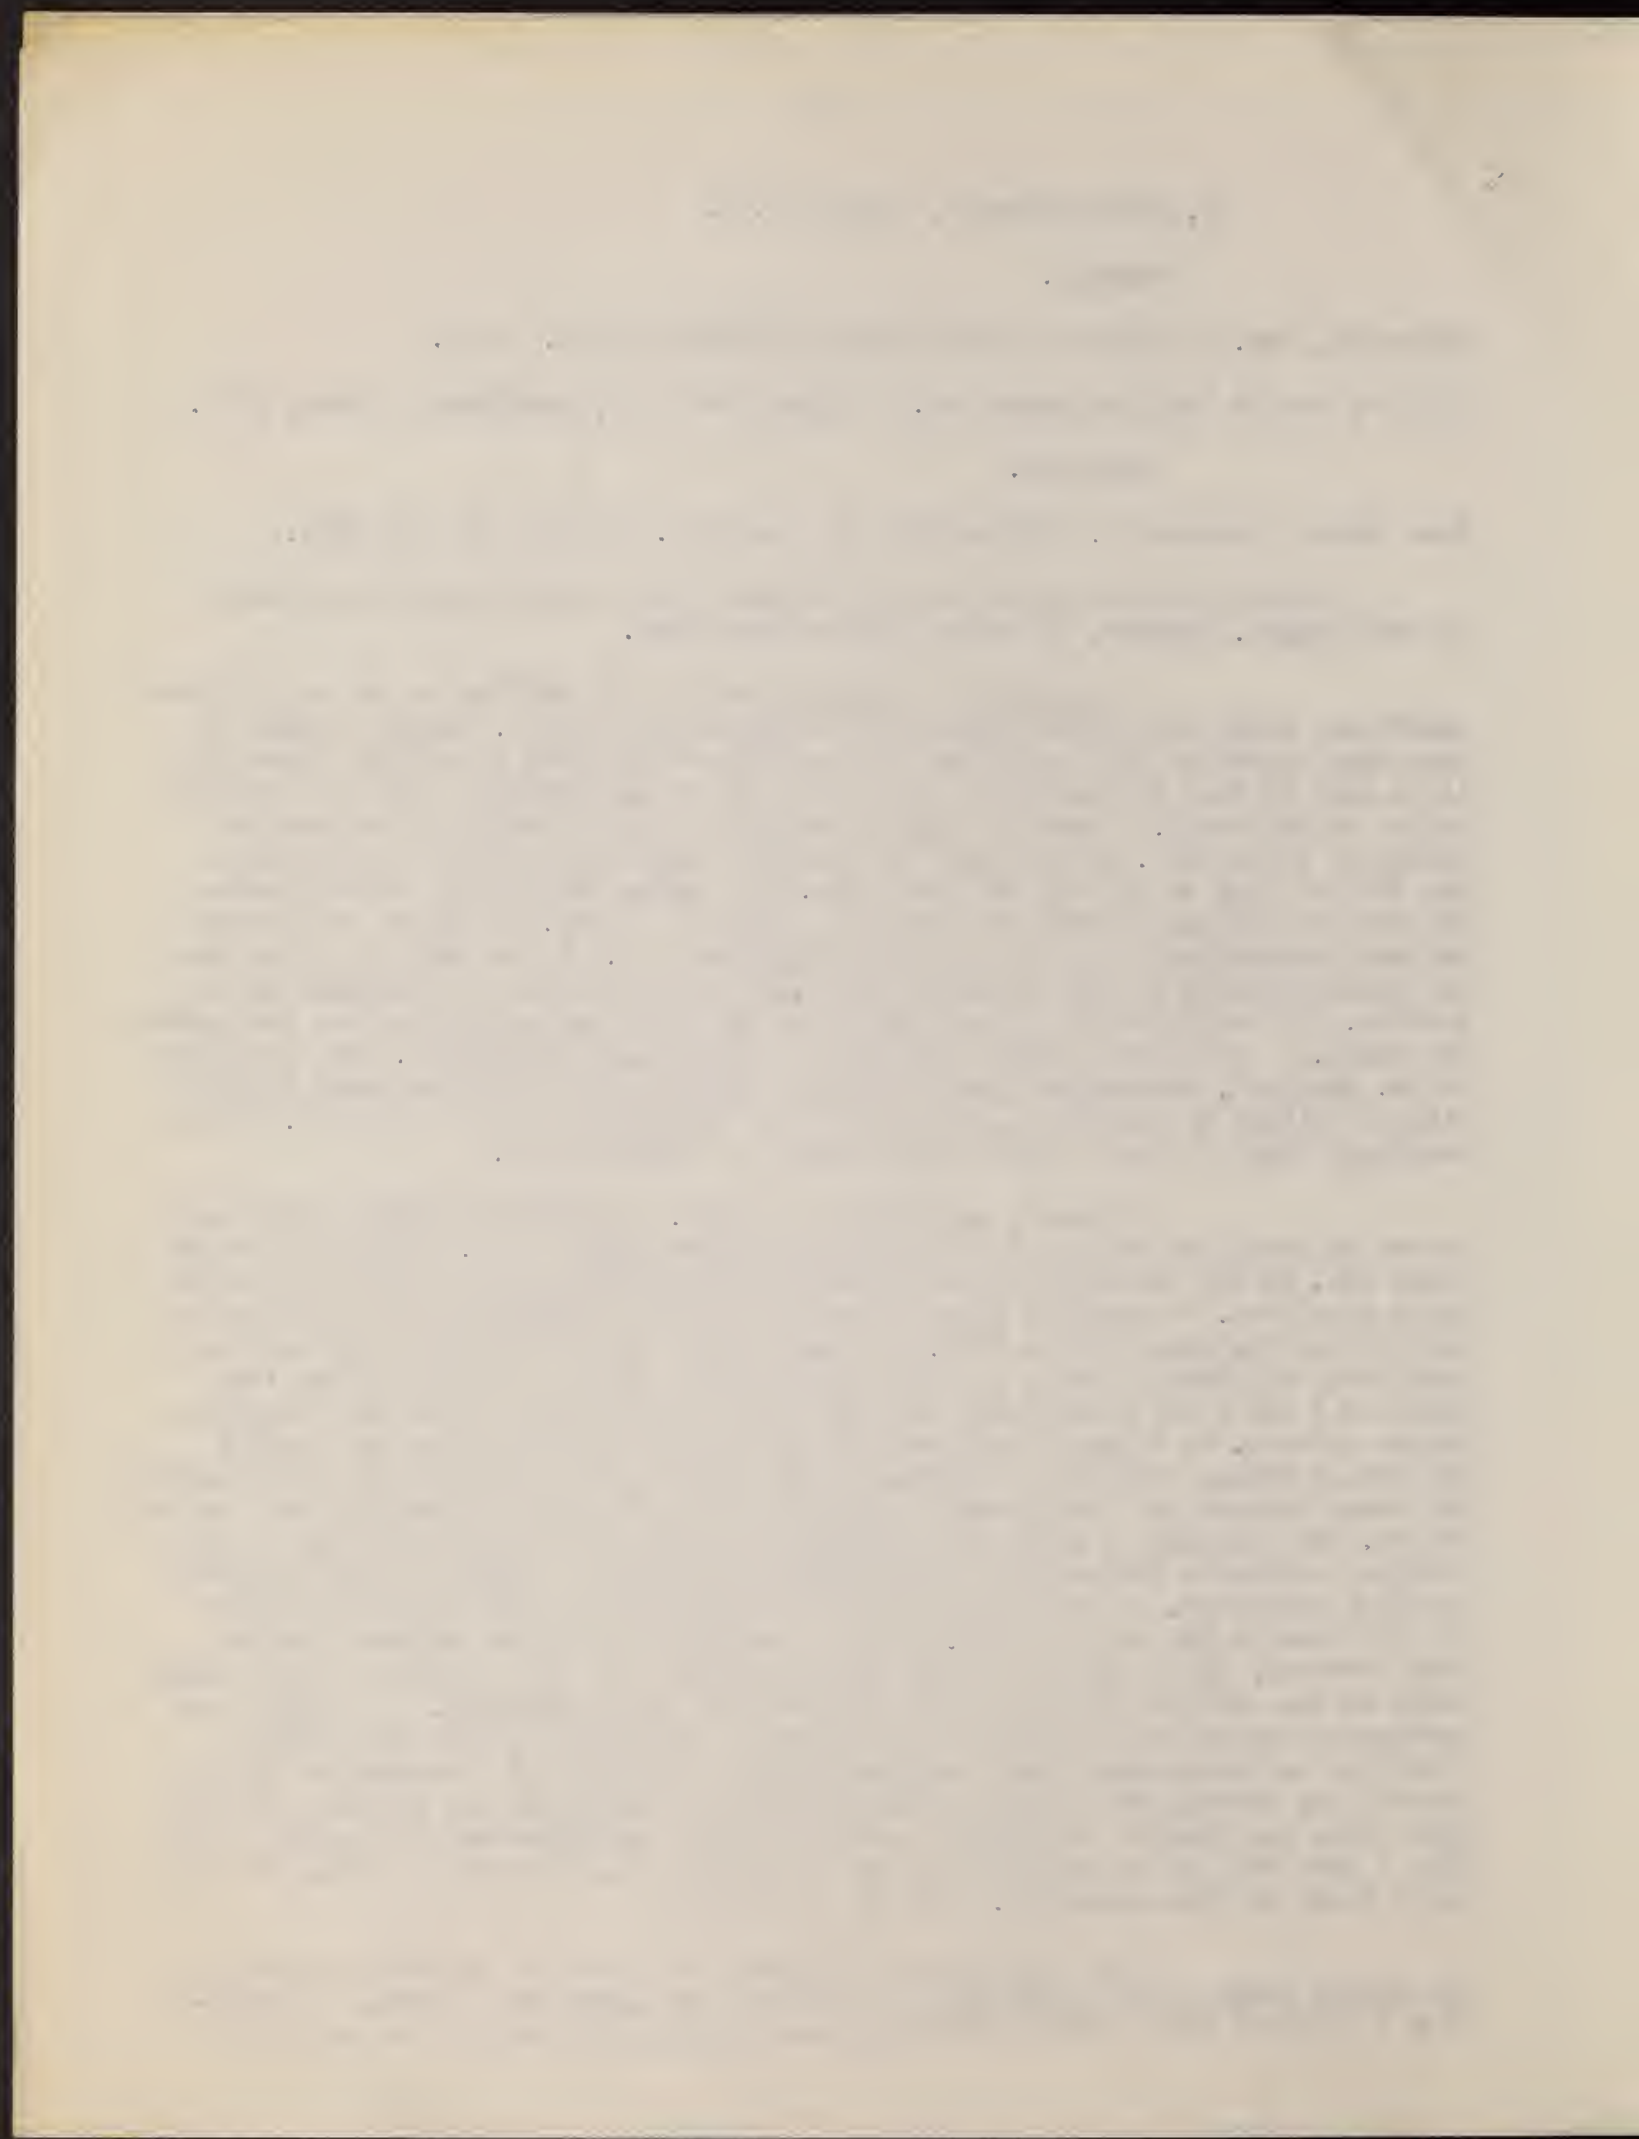

John Adams & Susannah B. Rogers, both of Albany Co., married 31 May, 1770.

I assume that the above are all members of the William Rogers family--he who was hanged. However, you might like to have them.

I appreciate hearing that you are willing to act on a Library Committee, along with Claude Young, Allan Dempsey and myself. While it might be some time before we have a library and archives established in working order, it is as well to have the machinery ready, and all of us keeping in mind the preservation of documents. I say all this to preface a short relation of the present status of the museum. As you know, we have been trying to institute a museum in the old building at the Adolphustown Park. The Seaway Commission, which operates the Park is willing to give us a certain amount of leeway. We are to supply the subject material and to have the say of exhibiting it. At the same time, the Seaway would supply a janitor and collect 25 cts to help defray the expenses of the janitor. This would leave us to do the work and to depend upon ourselves to finance our share. It all looks rather niggardly on the part of Government. But, according to Mr. Challies, the master mind, funds are allotted only for completion of the Pioneer Village at Morrisburg, which will not be finished until next year. In the meantime, there is next to no appropriation for Adolphustown.

However, apparently the Dept. of Travel & Publicity has come to our aid with the person of their museums co-ordinator, a Mr. Gooding, a bright young man. He has been down to advise our museum committee, and the program seems to be excellent. He suggests that we put on an exhibit which will tell the whole Loyalist story, from 1763 to 1840. In other words, there will not be an ordinary exhibit of a spinning wheel, a flail, an old glass flagon, a dress of the 'Gay Nineties,' and other primitives, such as can be seen in any of two dozen museums across Ontario. He suggests that we tell the story, stage by stage, in several exhibition cases, with some authentic object of the particular period as the centre, and large posters as a background, which will tell the story which will back up the object. For instance, a model log cabin will display the first houses. Or, a few Loyalist soldier's buttons will be the central figure in a story of the different Loyalist regiments. Or my model of the first Bath Academy will centre the story of education in the early period. In this connection, that old account book of Sam. Sherwood, with a picture of the first trading post (the building still stands) would be the central objects in the story of the first merchants. It sounds most interesting to me, and is just what has been in my mind, together with family histories and documents, which would make this a real LOYALIST centre for all of Canada. Mr. Gooding feels sure, without actually letting out any official secrets, that, when the Pioneer Village has been completed, Adolphustown will be next. And also I feel that he is unofficially telling us what the Government wants. It is up to us to be in there pitching. What do you think?

So, Ray, please keep your eyes open for authentic objects of the period before 1840, which might be donated, or loaned for a time. In particular I think of that Sherwood book. But there are many others. If we could use them for a summer season, it would be fine. Please keep your eyes open for some such objects.

In connection with the library committee, If it is agreeable with you, we might meet in your front room some Sunday afternoon. I could bring Young along, and Dempsey could drive up there himself. I suggest this as you do not have transportation elsewhere.

Our membership will now be 241. I have six applications for the next meeting, three of whom descend from Nova Scotia Loyalists. Two are in Ottawa; the third is from Vancouver. We are certainly forging ahead. I can foresee, with Adolphustown as a Loyalist shrine, great things ahead for us. We already have a memorial church, in fact, two, Anglican and United. The Queen's Rangers have deposited their flag in the Anglican Church there. The Park is a great drawing card, and with a museum and a depository of documents it should become a national Loyalist shrine. This will take time and effort, but I can see what a wonderful place it can become in the next twenty years.

I am returning the clipping. I have been in the cemetery where that Dulmage stone stands. It reminds me of the earliest Burleigh, or Burley, graveyard which is a part of the farm of Freeman Burley, and is about four miles north of here. There are about seven graves in it, with only stone slabs to mark the burial places. My sons and I, with some relatives, are clearing it up and putting up a suitable marker. Freeman's wife, Susannah Weese, Daughter of John, of Ernesttown, is buried there.

I am sorry that you must forego university for the year, but happy that you have a prospect of selling the house. I hope that you make it this time.

On re-reading your letter I note mention of the gin jug. If you can get it, without promise that it will be exhibited, please do so, as well as anything else that might do. When I come your way I will bring some contracts for gifts, or loans.

Until I see you, the best of everything, including good health and hunting.

Dear Peter:

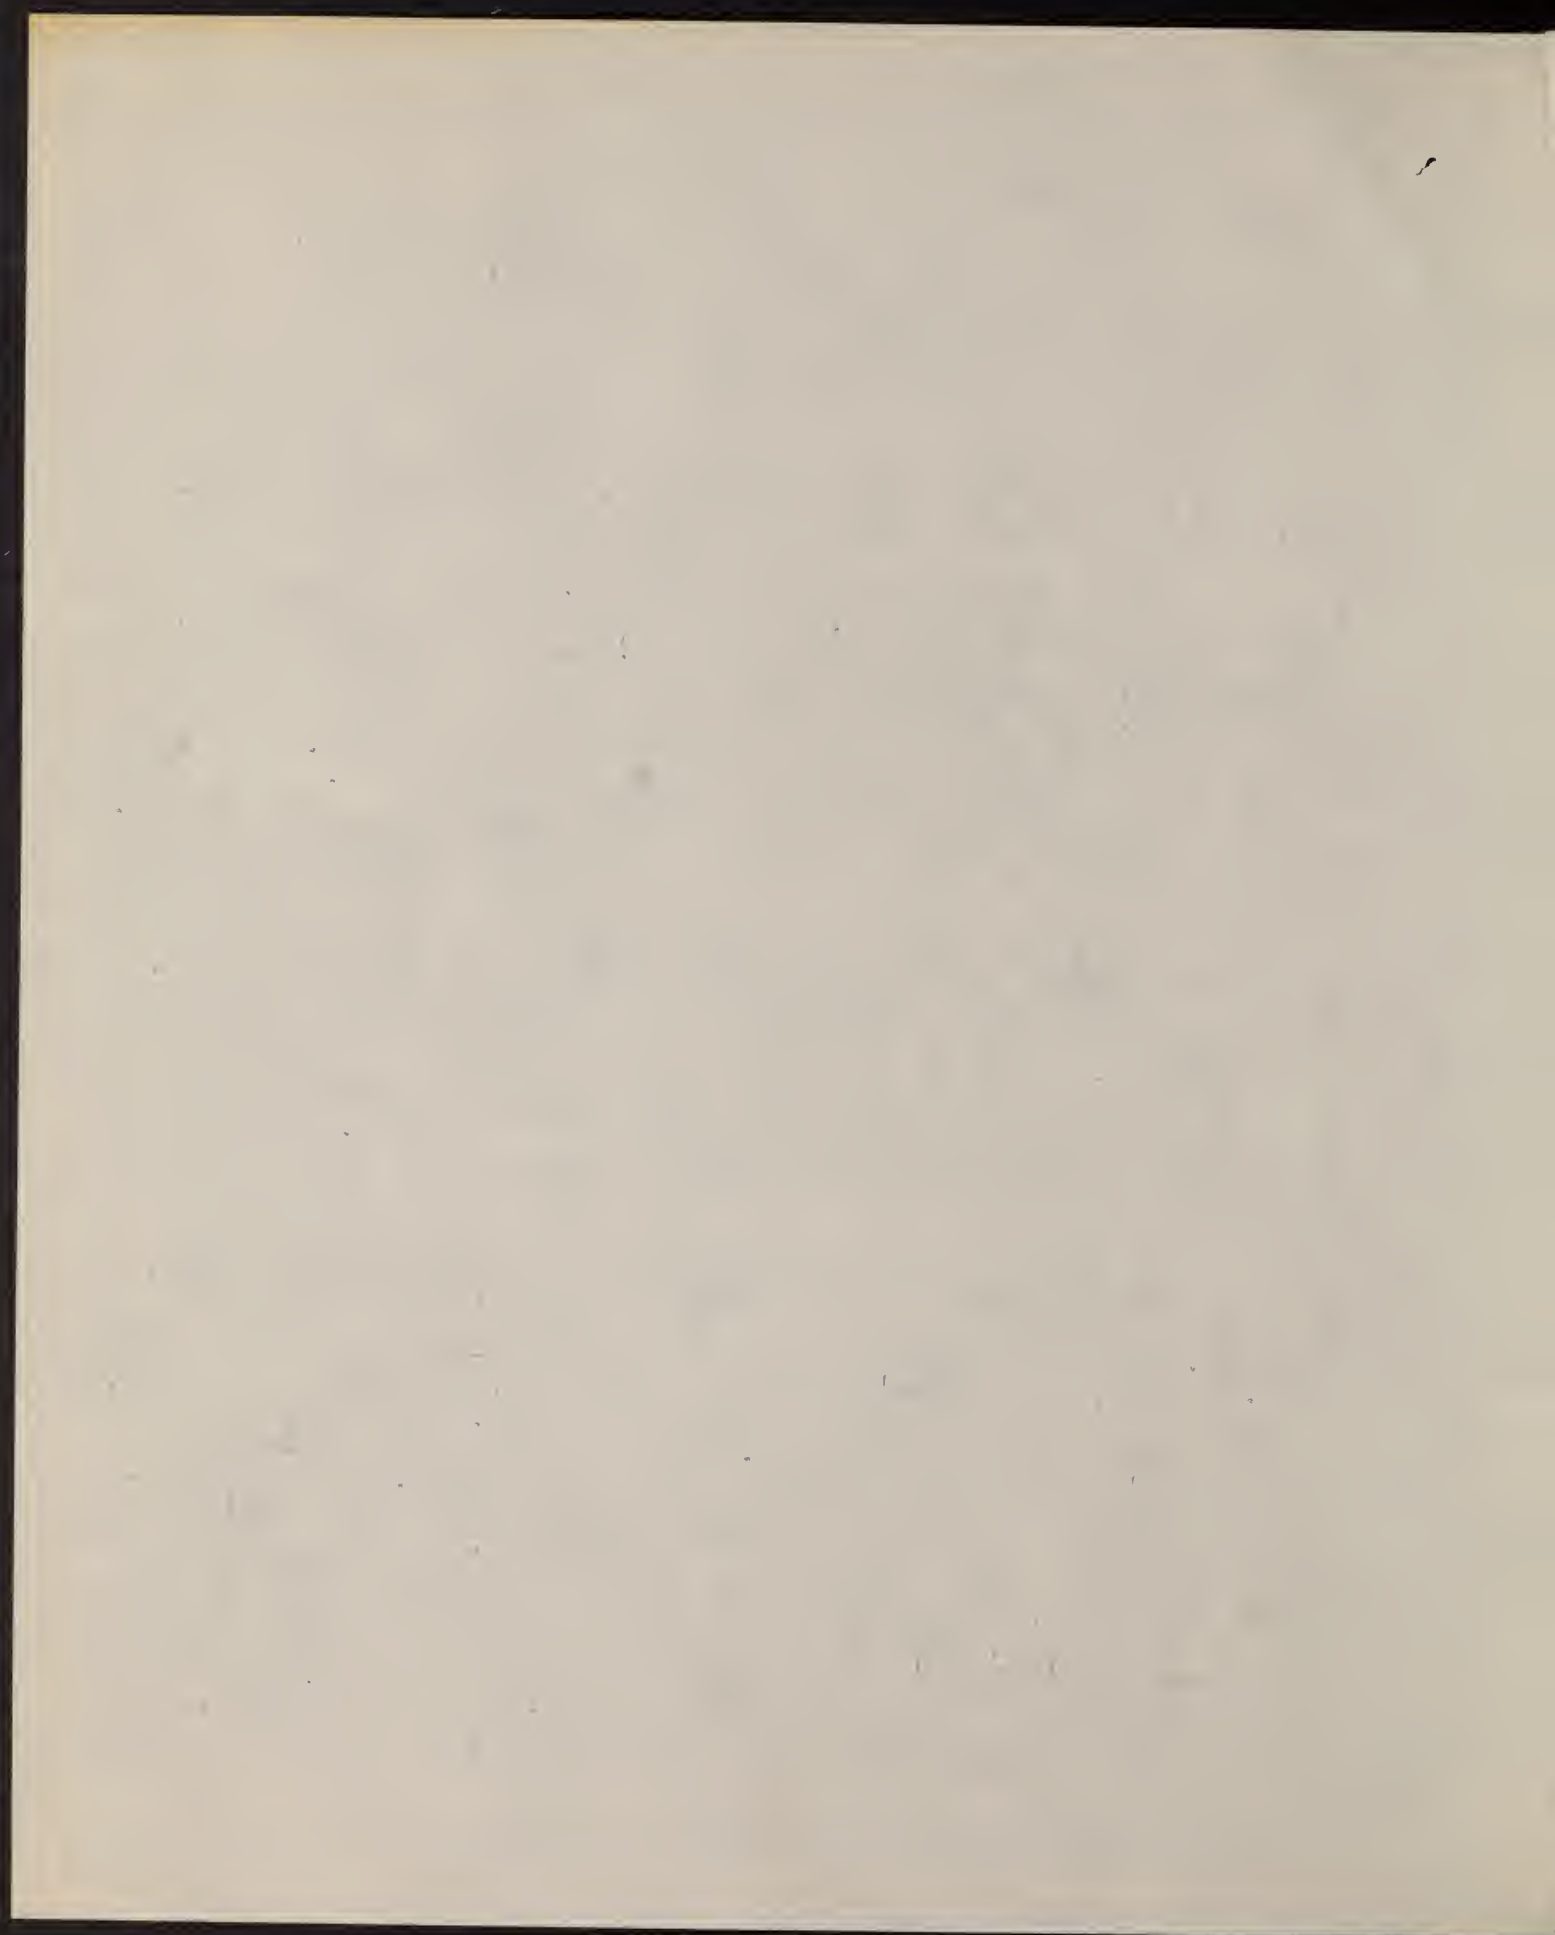

Impulsively, I have begun this letter while waiting for the eggs to cool for a salad for lunch. Since your good letter, I have been very busy preparing for that beastly winter.

We have had marvellous weather, and common sense told me to take advantage of it. I have tarred the sun-room roof, had a man trim all the hedges ($10.00!!), trimmed the tops from the borders, organized the class in Music, and had the coal put in the bins. The last job was finished just an hour or so ago, and I did not stop until everything was back in order. Now I am all set to do the leaves when they finish falling. Some of the trees have been so beautiful that I hate to see them wither. Not being used to manual labor, I was quite withered myself when I finished the blasted borders. I always dread that job.

Assuming that you have returned from the south, I hope you both enjoyed the trip and that Peter et al are prospering. From all appearances, Fate seems to be determined that I shall never see the old trail over which our forefathers struggled to reach Canada. If I am ever free to go, I should like to take a whole summer and loiter as I travel. There is much that I would like to inspect- especially at the Ty Library. Did you add to your already vast knowledge or have you drained the information from all sources?

I think that our good friend, Claude, had my question rather befuzzled (if you gather what I mean). Judge Willmott's wife was a grand-daughter to my step father, Daniel Wright Dulma(d)ge. I was in Cobourg and spent an over-night holiday with them. Helen, the judge's wife, was the dau. of Denton Dulmadge. Her mother was Agnes Macklam, sister to Alex. Macklam whose old home is next door to Ruth Cope. Helen knows very little about her father's people, and I do not know much more. My step father did not seem to agree with his relatives. He had a brother, Albert Dulmadge who lived in western Ontario. There was a Jacob Dulmadge who may have been an uncle or the father of Daniel Wright Dulmadge. He spoke of him once or twice but did not own him as a relative. The main clue is that my step father was very proud of 'Wright' in his name, and I think that his mother may have been a Wright from your district. It is possible, too, that it was his grandmother who was a Wright, and his own mother may have been a Wellington.

After all that fussing, I must hurry to say that I do not think that the Willmotts are particularly keen about becoming members of the U.E.L. (although I may get them to join). I was the one who began all this fluster by mentioning that I should like to see them on the rolls or, at least, represented in the Museum. After all, my step father's people were Loyalists; I am certain of that- perhaps associated with the Barbara Heck interest.

Before my trip to Cobourg, they had been here and taken me on a trip to Lake on The Mountain. It was then that I mentioned about the Museum, and Helen said that she had an old gin jug that had been brought from Ireland in the very early days and had been kept in her mother's family ever since. She wanted me to take it when I was in Cobourg, but I suggested that it be left with her until I could find out if it would be an acceptable article for the collection. I think she felt that by having it accepted, she could, in that way, have her people represented and her name recorded. I should be happy if this could be, not that the article is pretentious, but I should like to help her. She had a very unhappy childhood (confidentially), but was always nice to mother and my brother and me. There are very few of her people left, on her father's side. That's the story, and the name 'Wright' is the clue to the line. If you can give me a rough outline, I shall pass it on to her and then suggest that they join the U. E.L. Roy, her husband, might be glad to join.

I have made about three dozen errors in this letter and did my best to erase and cover up. Hope I succeeded so that you can follow this dash of writing. Now that I am into it, I must carry through. Congratulations to you and Dorothy for the fine work you have done in raising such a delightful family. I did not mean to cheat Dorothy out of an 'O'; so there it is (with a kiss). I am particularly delighted that John has become such a fine type of man and such a useful citizen. I always had faith in him and thoroughly like him. Many of my friends are in the young crowd. When any one criticizes them adversely, I give them the 'works'- meaning Hell; because it makes my eyes twinkle when the teen-agers raise a bit of controversial dust and the old crocks croak and rant. Perhaps my sympathy goes out to the young people, because I never had much cutting-up when I was in my teens. All that holds me back now is the infernal looks of it. And yet a great number of so-called mature people act far worse than the teenagers.

Yes, Peter, I shall be happy to be a member of the Library Committee, although I am so far away, I might not be of much use. However, such a committee, as I see it, would have a long range value. I can readily understand that members of the Association hesitate about loaning or giving items to the Museum until such time as it becomes established that the government or some important authority will protect the donated articles. I do hope that you succeed in your contacts to establish responsible power behind the undertaking. Surely tourists would be keen to do research in such a Library. Canada has far too few outlets of that sort.

How did you make out with Williams in the West? I have not written to him since seeing you. I have little time to dig into it, but I have been wondering whether Samuel Rogers of Bath might have been named after Samuel Williams. Perhaps John Williams was a brother of Sam. Samuel Rogers- Armstrong- William, U.E. is the set-up. It was through Samuel Rogers that the Bakers came into the picture. I believe the Dulmages were from Marysburg. You asked in your letter.

The membership of 235 in our Branch is remarkable. Had I known that you were going to be in Albany, I would have asked you to inquire of Miss Jacobsen about the most likely place to approach in Penn. They must have a similar Historical Dept. in the state library there. I would like to wander into that spot for Rogers' clues, because a few correspondents wrote that the family came from Penn. There are four generations between Saratoge and L. I. I have never found any of these clues to be without a legitimate cause.

I am inclosing a clipping or article, rather, that Helen loaned to me. I know that you will not mislay it; for I promised faithfully to return it to her. She has little material and treasures this write-up. It may give you some material for your records.

Well, Peter. I think I have shot my bolt for this time. I had to cancel my University work again, but they asked me to apply when I became certain that I could come up. What a time I have had! I am, however, keeping my fingers crossed as I type this letter (and it must look like it); for I had a couple here about the first of the month. They were both satisfied with all particulars and asked to have until the end of this month to arrange for a cash payment of all the price. If all goes well, I can remain here until the end of May or June- after the schools close, but the deal would be closed as soon as possible- if Satan doen not interfere again. At least, both husband and wife seemed delighted- said it was the first place that they had really liked (confidential).

Sincerely,

Thousands of the wretched fugitives took refuge within the lines of the English general, Marlborough. More than six thousand came to London, reduced from affluence to poverty, and were fed by the dole of public charity. A number — and with these we are at present more particularly interested — emigrated, under the auspices of the British Government, to Ireland, and settled in the county of Limerick, near Rathkeale. They received grants of eight acres of land for each person, young and old, for which the government paid the rent for twenty years. In a contemporary list of these "Irish Palatines" occur the names, afterwards so familiar in the United States and Canada, of Embury, Heck, Ruckle, Switzer, (Dolmage) and others.

(Barbara Heck (Ruckle) was born in 1734 at Ruckle Hill, their residence in Balligarrane)

(Story shows certain palatines in two batteaux rowing down Lake Champlain to Canada. These include Paul and Barbara Heck with 5 children, Widow Mary Embury with her children, John Lawrence. In the other boat were Peter Switzer and Joel Dolmage with their wives and children.)

(Isle aux - Noix was then an outpost of British army. So this must have been after defeat of Burgoyne)

Sergeant David Dulmage, U.E.

Sergeant David Dulmage, Loyalist soldier and pioneer settler in the Bay of Quinte District, was born in Limerick, Ireland, in 1746, according to family records. At the age of ten years he accompanied his parents to America. By 1770 he had married Mary Jennings, of Lancaster, Pa., and had removed to Camden Township, northeast of Albany, New York, together with his brother and other Palatine emigrants from Ireland. Here he leased virgin land and became a farmer.

Sergeant Dulmage was therefore thirty years old when, in October, 1776, he, as did his brother John and others of his community, joined the British forces on Lake Champlain. Before these newcomers could be organized into regiments, the campaign came to an end, and it was not until the following June that David Dulmage became a soldier. On the 25th of that month he was made a corporal in the Queen's Loyal Rangers commanded by Lt.-Col. John Peters. With this regiment he participated in the disastrous defeat at Bennington on Aug. 16. So badly shattered was this unit that he, a promising soldier, was promoted to sergeant on transfer to Capt. Mackay's Loyal Volunteers, with which company he served until the Capitulation of Burgoyne's army at Saratoga in Oct., 1777. Under the terms of capitulation Sgt. Dulmage, with other Loyalists, retired to Quebec Province, agreeing never to take up arms during the conflict with the rebels. During the next three years Sgt. Dulmage was employed on various engineering projects, first in Mackay's and later in Capt. Leake's Company. In 1781, however, the rebels having broken the terms of Capitulation, the remnants of various Loyalist regiments and companies were re-organized into the Loyal Rangers. Sgt. Dulmage served in this regiment on outpost duty until its disbandment on Christmas Eve, 1783.

When David Dulmage went off to the wars he left his wife and three children on the farm. This so enraged the rebels that they made life unbearable for his family. Finally, in 1778, Mrs. Dulmage was turned off the farm, being allowed only what she could carry, and transported to the Canadian border, from whence she and her children reached the British outpost at St. John's. In this destitute condition the Government was forced to house, feed and clothe these and other Loyalists until such time as the war was over and by their own efforts they would become self-supporting. Official records reveal that Mrs. Dulmage and her children were at St. John's in Aug. 1779. By October they had been transferred to the refugee camp at Machiche, where they remained until 1783. In July of that year they resided at Coteau du Lac, where her husband was ~~employed~~ stationed. Here the family remained until May, 1784, when they joined the great company of Loyalists who ascended the St. Lawrence River to found settlements along the Bay of Quinte.

And what of the Dulmage children? If official records are correct, there were deaths as well as births in the Dulmage family during this unhappy period. In July 1779, when Mrs. Dulmage was at St. John's, she mothered one son and three daughters. In 1780 only two daughters are recorded. By July, 1783, there were two sons, while the final muster roll of October, 1784, records three sons and three daughters. These were, as other records confirm, Jacob, Edward, John, Elizabeth, Margaret and Mary--all of whom married and left descendants now scattered widely in Canada and the United States.

In this new regiment David Dulmage served as sergeant until its disbandment Christmas Eve 1783. and saw service in the defense of the northern approaches of Lake Champlain and the lower rapids of the St. Lawrence.

When Sgt Dulmage went off to the war he left Mrs. Dulmage and three children on the farm. His departure so incensed the Rebels that they made life unbearable for his family. Finally, in 1778, she with other loyalist families from Camden Township were sent to Canada by way of Lake Champlain. Following reunion with ~~the~~ husband the Dulmage ~~family~~ family, destitute of every need, became wards of the Government who housed & fed them until they had become re-established in Upper Canada. Official records show Mrs. Dulmage & children resident at St. John, Quebec in ^{Aug} 1779. By Oct they had been transferred to the refugee camp at Mouchie where they remained until 1783. In July of the latter year they resided at Coteau du Lac. doubtless to be near her husband. During the next 3 years Sgt Dulmage was employed as a non-combatant first in McKay's Company & later in Capt. Leake's Company. With this unit Sgt Dulmage served in outpost duty until it was disbanded on Xmas Eve 1783

Sgt. David Dulinage, Loyalist soldier, and pioneer settler in the Bay of Quinte district, was born in Limerick Ireland, in 1746, according to family records. At the age of 10 years he accompanied his parents to America. By 1770 he had married Mary Jennings, of Lancaster, Pa., and had removed to Cander Township, northeast of Albany N.Y., on the Vermont border, together with his brother & other Palatine German emigrants from Ireland. Sgt Dulinage was therefore 30 years of age when, in ^{October} 1776, he, as did his brother John & others of his community, joined the British forces on Lake Champlain. RECORDS OF ADOLPHUSTOWN TOWN MEETINGS.

Dulmage.

Personal Notes.

Jacob Dulmage.

Jacob Dulmage was for a short time a resident of Adolphustown but moved at an early time in life to Marysburg, where he lived and died. He was a prominent member of the Methodist Church, and probably a local preacher for years. He married Sarah Huff, a daughter of Solomon Huff, one of the Adolphustown pioneers. Another of the sisters married Henry Hoover, the father of Mrs. Joseph B. Allison. Another married Henry Vanduzen. Another married Capt. Abraham Maybee of Adolphustown. It is said that Mrs. Wright, mother of the Rev. David Wright, one of the early Methodist preachers, was a sister of Jacob Dulmage. Rev. D. Wright was the father of Dr. H. H. Wright of Toronto. Dr. I. H. Cameron of Toronto is a son-in-law of Dr. Wright. Mrs. Henry Hoover, sister of Mrs. Dulmage, was 11 years old when the family came to this Province. She was married by a Justice of the Peace, in the absence of a minister; lived to be nearly 90 years of age, and was buried in the U. E. L. burying ground. It is thought the Dulmages and Hoovers were of Palatine stock, relatives of Barbara Heck. Mrs. Gunsolas, nee Amy Allison, says when she was a child her grandmother Hoover, nee Huff, wanted to name her Barbara Heck, after their relative.

Delmage or Dolmage
of Rathkeale
co. Limerick

Lineage: - The family of Dolmage, or Delmage (as the name is also written) is of Alsatian origin, and descends from ADAM DOLMAGE, who settled in co. Limerick temp LOUIS XIV., being compelled, as were many other Protestants, to seek refuge in Ireland. He had a younger brother, Julius, who at the same time settled in the Island of Jamaica, where he and his descendants became possessed of considerable property. The last of this line, Adam Dolmage, d. in 1835, and his estates of Charlottenburg, Hopewell and Union Hall passed to his only child, a dau.

Adam Dolmage, of Rathkeale, co. Limerick, whose grandfather quitted France on the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes, was Capt. Royal German Fusiliers in 1778. He married Eliza Powell and had issue. (Jell, father of John & David?)

DAVID - Son of Jacob & Margaret Embury

Born 1746 Limerick Count., Ireland and came to America in 1760 with a younger brother, John, who was born in 1744. At this time John was only 16 years of age and his father had married again (after the death of his mother Margaret Embury in 1746) and John was put in charge of a family by name of Edward Carscallen.

David & John settled in Camden County, New York Province, a valley on the Hudson River. It is now called Washington, Vermont.

David changed name to "Dulmage" and in 1765 married Mary Jennings, born 1747 in County of Lancaster, Penn.

Sgt. David Dulmage was in Lloyds Rangers during the Revolutionary War. David, wife and 3 children were driven off their land by American Revolutionists in 1782 and fled up through Lake Champlain and the Richelieu River to Sorel, Que. where David Jr. was born the same year.

In 1784, the family at time of the United Empire Loyalist movement, took up land and settled in Prince Edward County, Bay of Quinte, Upper Canada. David & Mary were Loyalists by virtue of Davids service in the Revolutionary War. David and Margaret had 10 children. See next page for children. See map for location of Sorel, Que., Camden County and Bay of Quinte.

George born 1852 Bay of Quinte

Joseph born 1854 "

Daniel born 1858 "

David born 1860 "

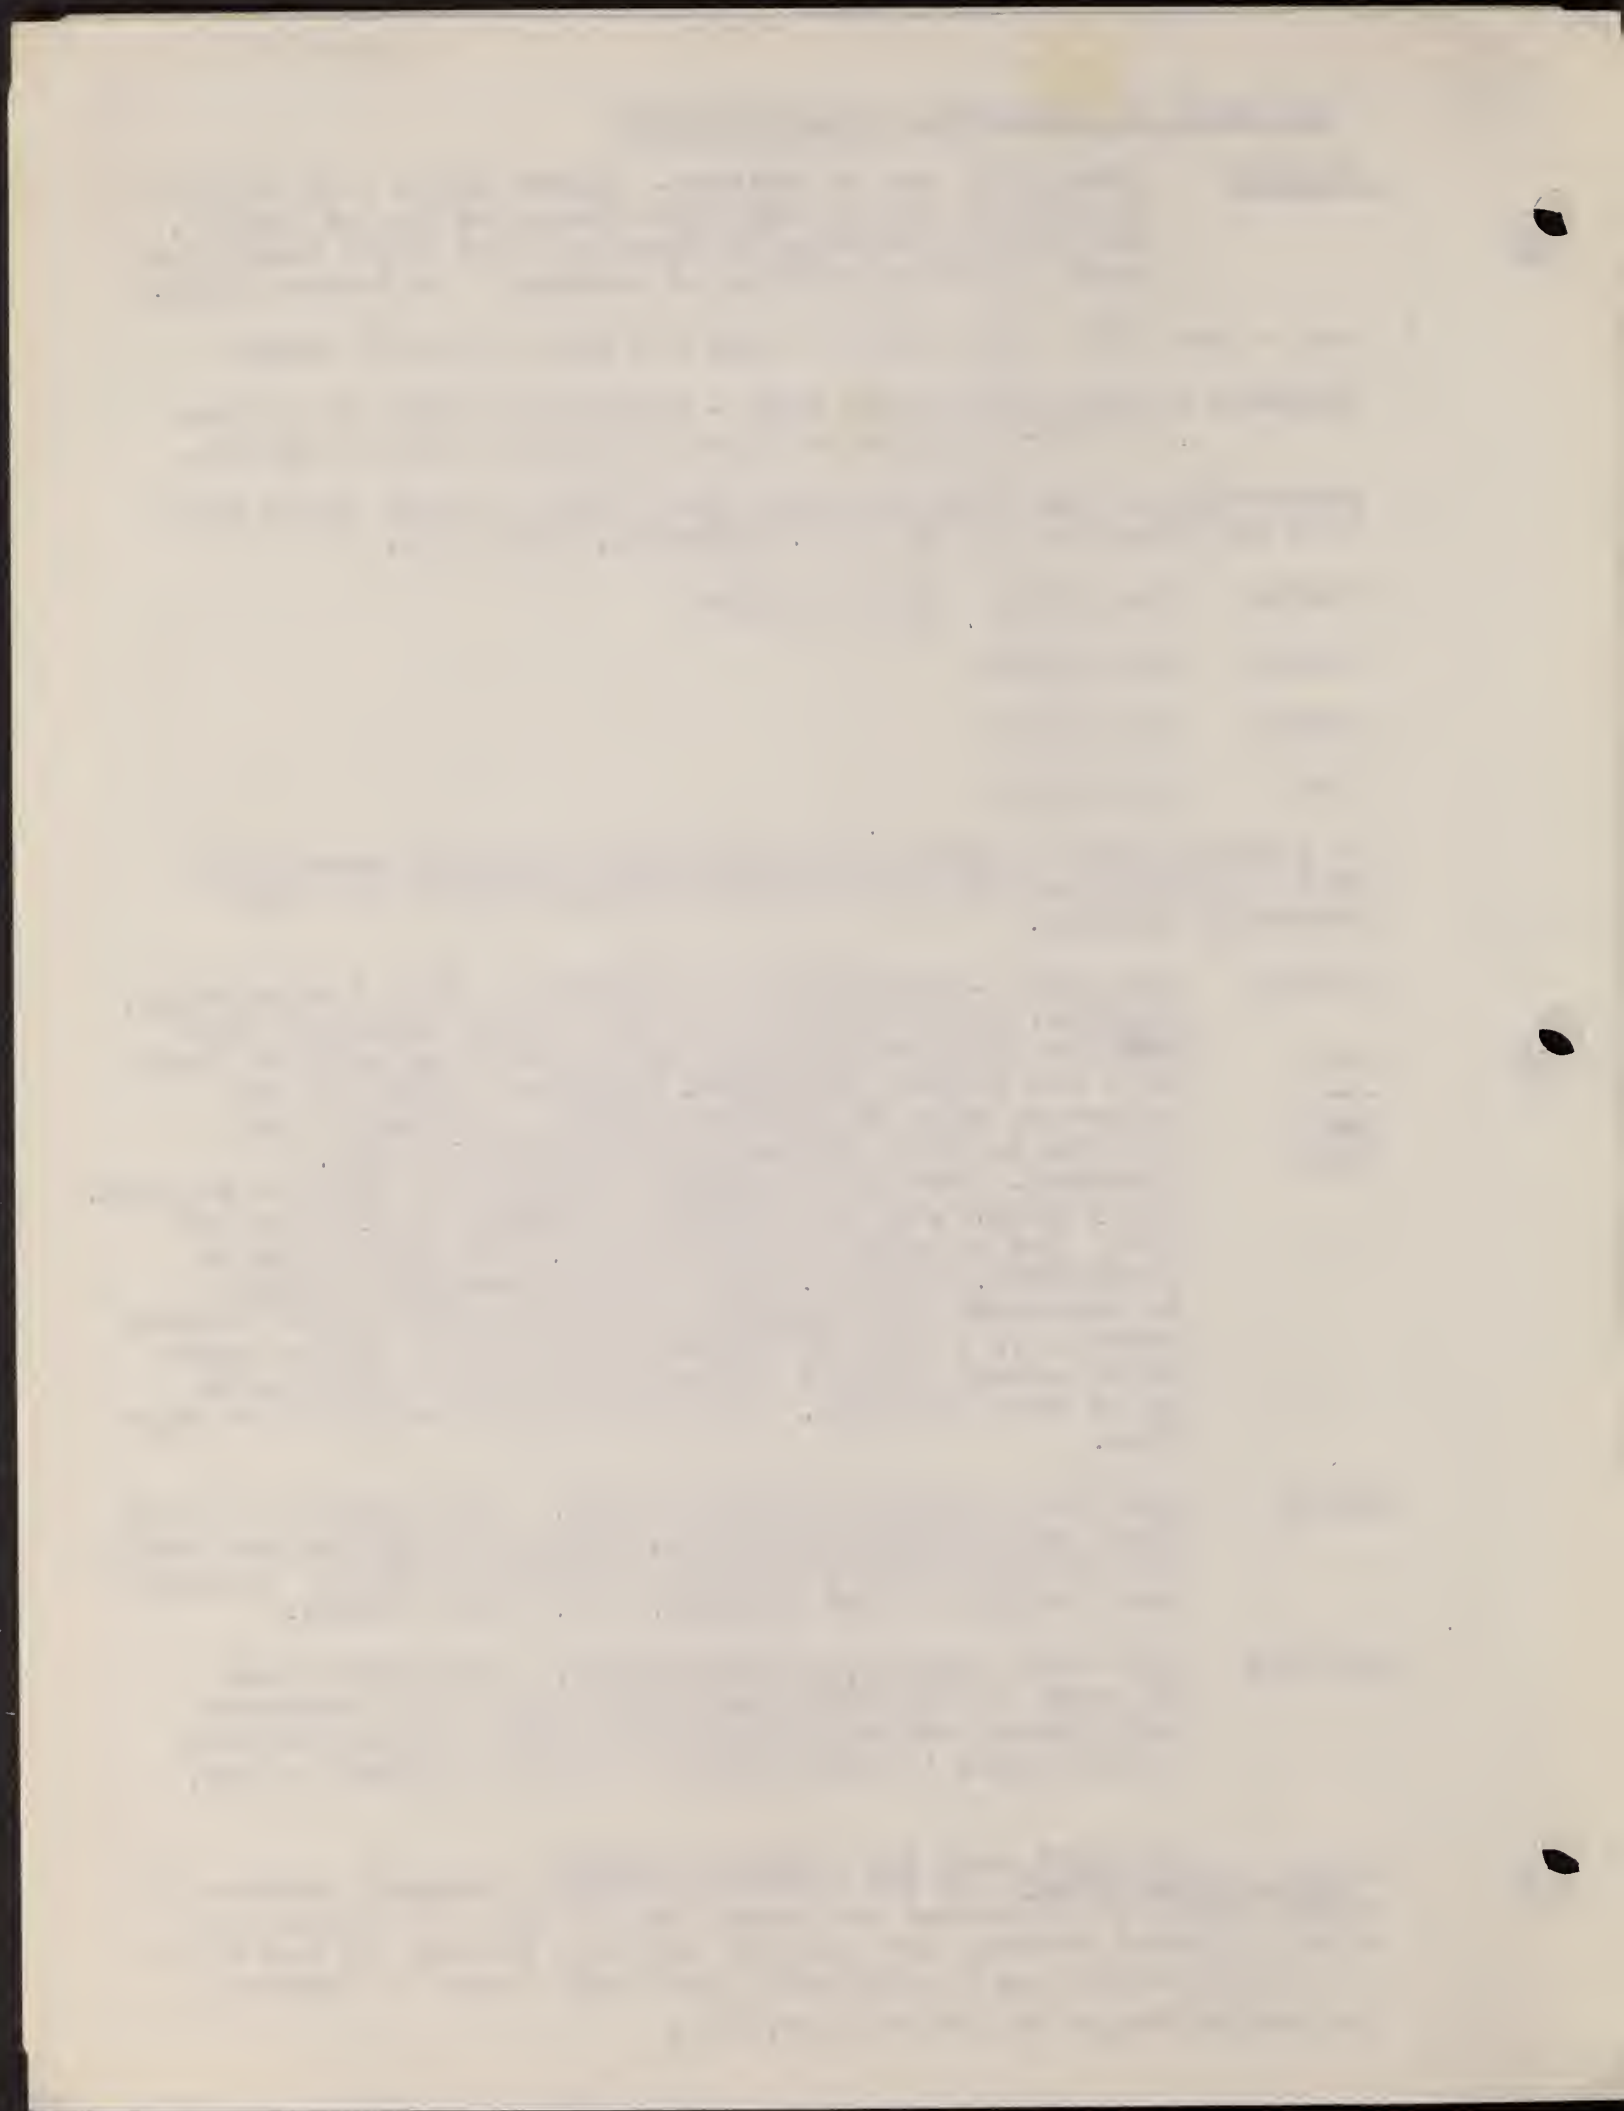

No further word of above 4 boys but they evidently moved with rest of family to Orillia as they are mentioned in the 1871 Census of Orillia.

DONALD born 1861 - Napanee - Bay of Quinte - died Jacksonville, Florida, Duval County in 1924. Lived in Orillia from 1861 to 1881 when he went to Rat Portage to live along with his father Alexander, brothers Archibald and Augustus, also his sister Louise. Married in Rat Portage to Edna Armstrong, 1 daughter Myrtle. Divorced. Mother & Daughter returned to Orillia to live, about 1900. Donald living in Cranbrook, B.C. around 1905 and married to Laura Pryor, who later died in Fernandina, Florida. Moved in 1920 from Chicago to Jacksonville, Florida. Purchased along with brother Archibald, a plot of ground adjoining an Orange Grove which proved to be a fiasco but years later proved to be very valuable. All information available at this time.

Louise Born 1862 Orillia, Simcoe County. Left Orillia in 1881 along with father Alexander, brothers Augustus and Donald and Archibald for the west but died in 1882 of typhoid fever while in Fort Frances, Ont. Not married.

Caroline Born 1868 Orillia, Simcoe County. Would have been 14 years old in 1881 when her father and 3 brothers and sister Louise left for the west. No information is available if she married or what happened to her.

New York City, N.Y.

Mrs. J. Dudley Carroll at present living with husband at (Constance) 2132 West Hiredale,
Fort Worth, Texas - 76110

Archibald Fairfield Dulmage was first mayor of Bow Island, Alta.
in 1912 and was employed by Pioneer Lumber Co. at Bow Island.
(Their Head Office was in Lethbridge, Alta.) In 1900 no record of this Lumber Co. in Lethbridge.

The house Archibald and family lived in and owned in Bow Island has been moved to a new location and recently renovated with a new roof and picture windows and is now the home of Mr. & Mrs.
W.F. Matson, who also was a former mayor of Bow Island. The present mayor of Bow Island remembers the Dulmage family quite well. (present Mayor is ALFRED EGAN)

In 1920 in Jacksonville, Florida, Archibald purchased land along with his brother Donald, which land was a failure but later proved valuable.

 Constance was adopted by Archibald Dulmage when her mother Agnes married him in 1904 and did not know ^{this} until she was 18 years of age

AUGUSTUS - born 1846 Clarks Mills, Bay of Quinte died 1895 Minnesota
married
1868 to Elizabeth Ann Oliver of Napanee, Ont.
born 1850 - died 1929 Kenora, Ont.
3 children born in Napanee
We do not know exact date they left Napanee for Orillia but probably around 1862.
4 children born in Orillia
In 1881 they left Orillia for the west along with Augustus father Alexander, age 68 - 7 children of their own, and 2 brothers of Augustus, Donald age 22 and Archibald age 16 and sister Louise age 19.
In 1882 while in Fort Frances, the sister Louise died of Typhoid Fever. In 1883 a son Fred was born in Winnipeg, then all moved on to Rat Portage.
Claude was born in 1884 in Rat Portage 9 children in all.

We have endeavored to trace lineage of Elizabeth Ann Oliver Dulmage (wife of Augustus). Her mothers maiden name was Cronk and mother died when Elizabeth was born and father remarried and Elizabeth was taken by an aunt. In the 1851 Census of Napanee, several families of Cronks and Olivers are listed but as we do not know mothers or fathers first names we were unable to follow-up.

Re "Dolmetsch" - "Dolmage" - who settled in Jamaica
from the Palatinate

Members of the Dolmetsch family were given refuge in England in 1709 by Queen Ann of England. Johann Adam Dolmetsch settled in Limerick County, Ireland and a brother Julius went to Jamaica where he and his descendents acquired 3 plantations, Charlottenburg, Union Hill and Hopewell.

Name "Adam Dolmage" appeared in 1791 as Ensign in St. Catharines Militia. Between 1811 and 1815 Adam acquired estates of 400 acres and 115 slaves. He had a daughter, who was the wife of a Kingston lawyer- Wm. Brooks King. She died in childbirth as did the infant. A brother Thomas Edward Dolmage died in 1817, age 33. Father died in 1827 in Bath, England, leaving the husband- Wm. Brooks King, as owner of the estates which later were sold to a "McGregor".

The old "Dolmage" property, now ^{known} as Charlottenburg, situated at an elevation of 6000 ft. in the Blue Mountains, northeast of Kingston, was a ^{coffee} plantation and now consists of about 50 acres. Part of Union Hill is owned by Swiss Consul General and used as a private summer home. Hopewell is now owned by a daughter of Lord Beaverbrook.

Charlottenburg was visited by Garrett Dulmage of Smith Falls, Ont. in recent years. His great-grandfather was Garrett Dulmage who came from Ireland in 1824 and settled in Appleton, Ont.

From Mr. Richard F. Eckels of Florida, May 1966 sent to John Dulmage of Jubilee Ave., Winnipeg, Man.

A great deal of time has been spent assembling and typing the information shown on these pages but the writer has enjoyed every minute of the work.

I wish I had been able to give more time to the work in Kenora, obtaining news from the old Rat Portage newspapers but I spent three afternoons in the Library and Museum and I was only 10 days in Kenora on vacation. I would probably have to spend several months there to have completed the job of checking the newspapers for news items.

I hope my relatives to whom this ~~book~~ book is being sent will keep records of future generations.

Dear Doctor:

For several months I have been endeavoring to complete a booklet on the "Dulmage" family from the Bay of Quinte covering my grandfather, etc.

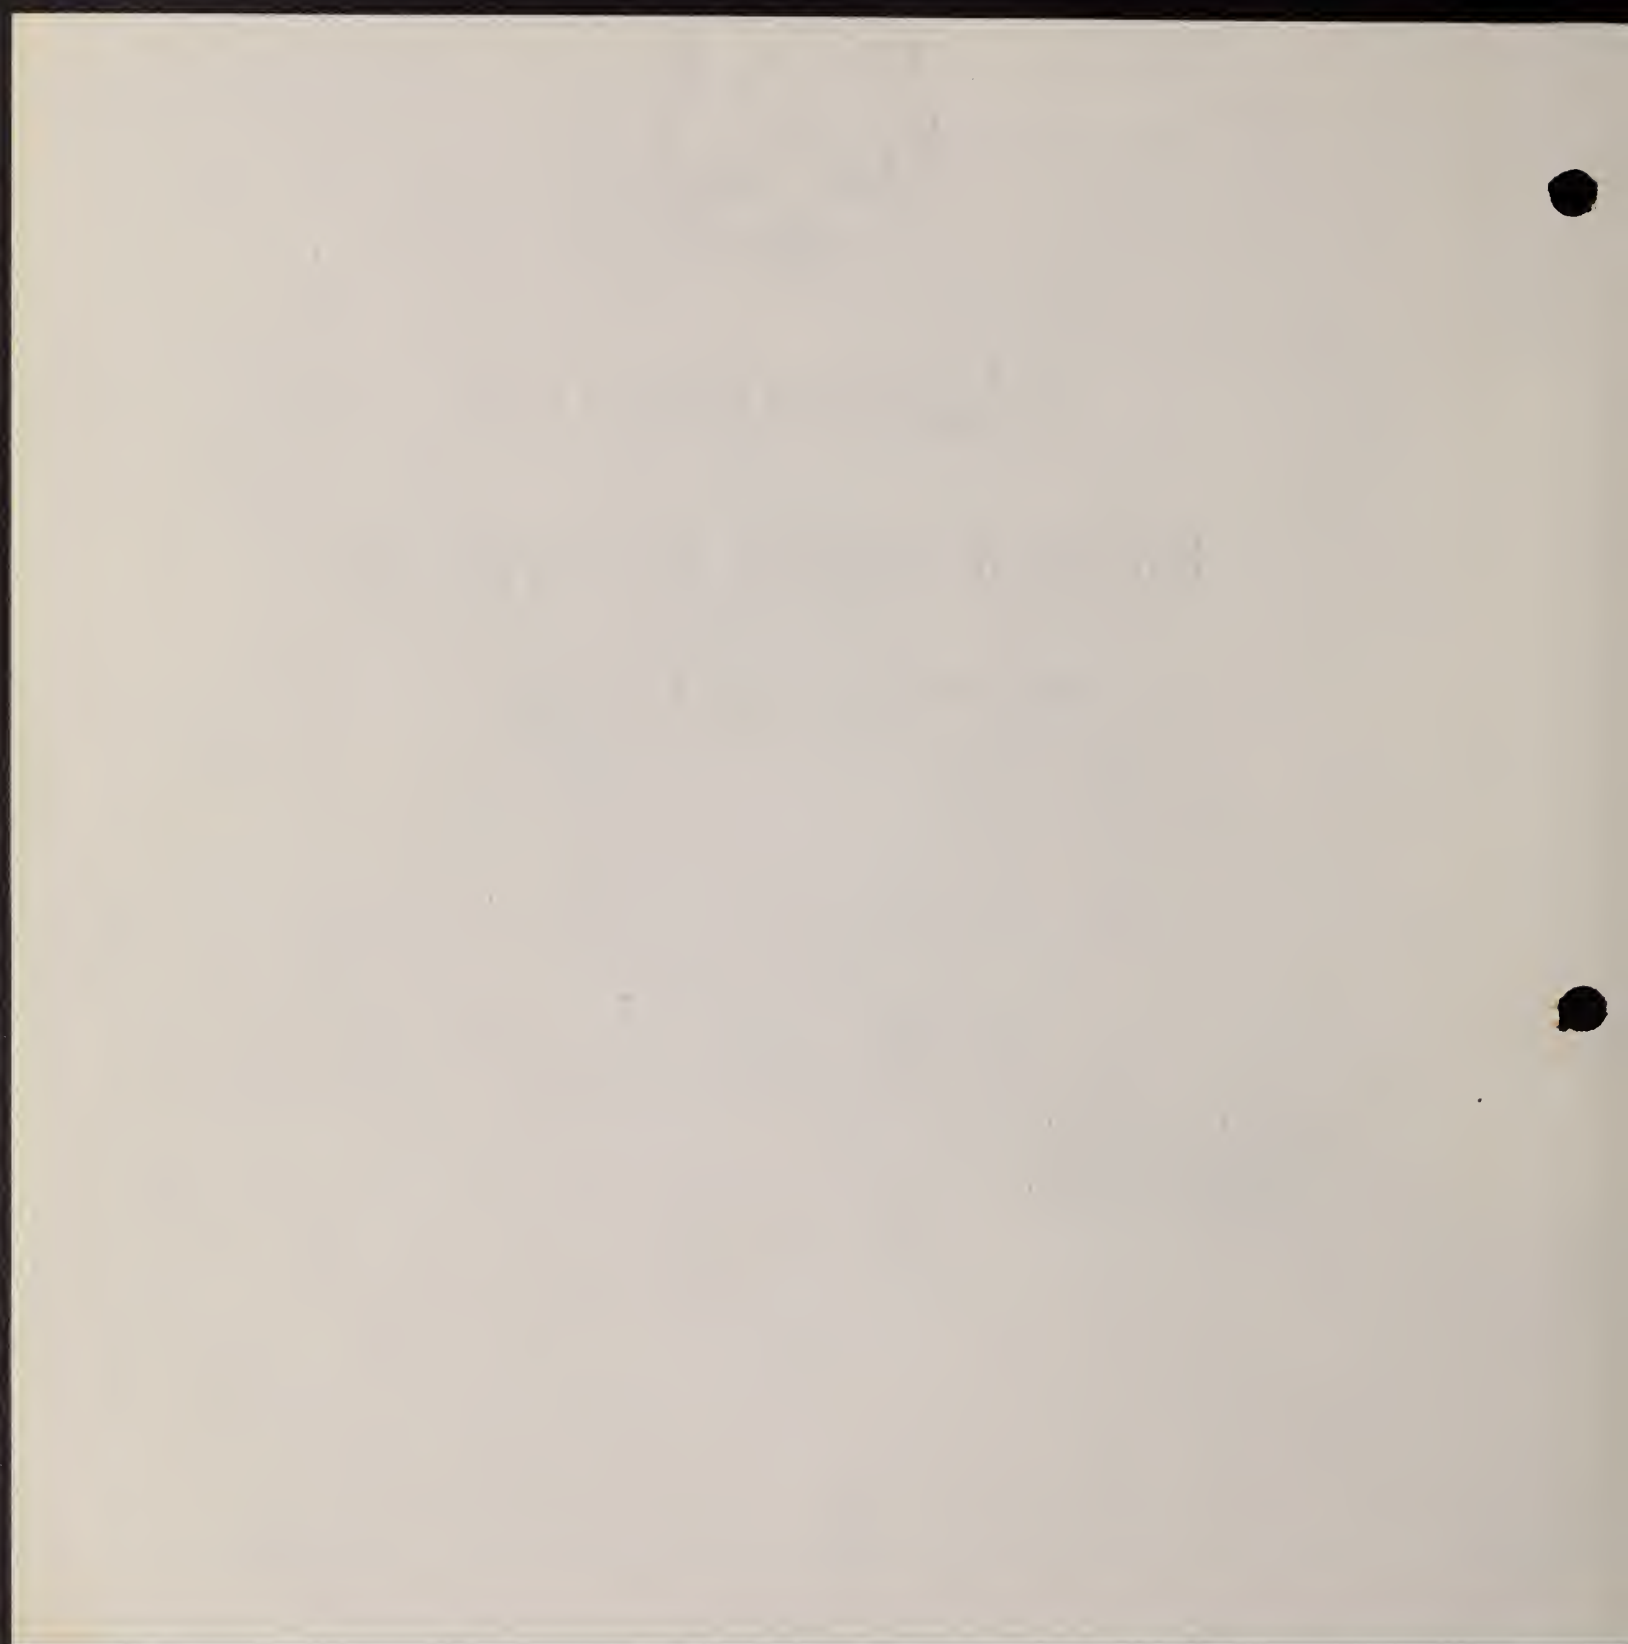

I am enclosing a copy and hope you will find time to read same. My great-grandfather was Alexander Dulmage 1813-1889 and was the son of David Dulmage Jr. and Ann Roblin.

I wish to thank you for the information sent.

Yours truly,

Year?
Brighton, Dec. 17.—Mrs. D. W. Dulmadge, descendant of William

Mrs. Dulmadge

Rogers, United Empire Loyalist, celebrated her 94th birthday at her home, "The Cedars," here last week-end.

Still active and performing many household duties. Mrs. Dulmadge clearly remembers pioneer days in Murray township. She recalls the time when maple sugar was the only sweetening available, when cloth was woven at home for home use, and candles were home-made in moulds. She well remembers the old stage coach running between Kingston and Toronto, then York.

She has two sons, James R. Freeman, Moncton, N.B., and Capt. W. R. Freeman, Brighton.
